SC asks ECI to respond to plea

NEW DELHI, July 3: The Supreme Court today asked the Election Commission of India (ECI) to file in two weeks its response on a plea for probe into the allegations that EVMs were tampered with in the Assembly polls earlier this year.

A bench comprising Chief Justice JS Khehar and Justice DY Chandrachud was informed by the ECI's advocate that similar matters filed by some political parties, including Mayawati-led BSP, was pending before another court in the apex court. The ECI said that notice has already been issued in the matters pending before a bench headed by Justice J Chelameswar and this plea should be tagged along with them.

Advocate ML Sharma, the petitioner in the case, opposed the ECI's contention and said that his PIL was on a different subject matter and a political party cannot come before the court with a PIL.

"My matter is completely different. He (ECI counsel) is misleading the court. Those petitions are filed by political parties. How can the PIL filed by political parties," he said.

To this, the bench observed that "Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) are the subject matter of challenge. You say EVM is not good. It is the same thing."

Sharma, however, said the issue pending before another court also contained a prayer that in future elections, EVMs should have voter verifiable paper audit trail (VVPAT) attached with them, whereas he had not raised any such issue in his petition.

"My subject matter is different. If the matters are clubbed, my petition will be destroyed," he claimed.

The bench, however, asked the ECI to file its reply to the petition within two weeks and asked the petitioner to file a rejoinder to the response within two weeks thereafter.

The apex court also tagged the plea with the petition pending before the other court.

The court had earlier asked the ECI to file its response on the plea which has sought investigation by software experts into the allegations that the EVMs were tampered with in the Assembly polls held earlier this year.

The PIL has also sought a direction to the Centre for registering an FIR to investigate the alleged tampering of EVMs "for vested interest by a political party and to file their report before the apex court".

The plea has sought examination of "quality, software/ malware and hacking effect in the EVMs from a reliable electronic lab/scientist and software expert and to file their report before this court for further action/scrutiny."

The petitioner has also referred to the allegations of EVM tampering in the Assembly elections held in five states, as well as the Maharashtra civic polls. - PTI

Modi to publish book for youth

NEW DELHI, July 3: Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi will soon publish a book dedicated to the youth, both in India and across the world.

Modi is said to address core issues like overcoming exam stress, keeping one's composure during exams and even what to do after the exams get over.

"I have chosen to write on a subject that is close to my heart, and one that is fundamental to my vision for a youth-driven and youth-led tomorrow,"

Modi said in a statement.

The announcement has been made by the publisher Penguin Random House, which said it is the first of its kind by a serving Prime Minister. - IANS

CBI quizzes TMC MP Sultan Ahmed

KOLKATA, July 3: Trinamool Congress Member of Parliament Sultan Ahmed on Monday appeared at the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) city office on the agency's summons in the Narada sting footage case.

"Sultan Ahmed has come to our Nizam Palace office in Kolkata. He is being interrogated about his role and involvement in the Narada sting case," a CBI official said.

The TMC leader from West Bengal was purportedly seen receiving boards of cash in the sting footage.

The CBI sleuths had questioned Ahmed's brother and Trinamool Congress legislator Igbar Ahmed, Indian Police Service officer SMH Mirza and a middleman named Syed Tazdar Ali Mirza alias Tiger in connection with the case last month.

The controversy erupted in election-bound West Bengal in March last year when Narada news portal uploaded a video clip purportedly showing the Trinamool leaders receiving money for extending favours to a fictitious company. - IANS

SC refuses urgent hearing to Justice Karnan seeking bail

NEW DELHI, July 3: The Supreme Court today refused to accord urgent hearing on a plea of former Calcutta High Court judge Justice KS Karnan seeking bail and recall of the order of conviction for contempt.

Karnan, who was arrested on June 20 in pursuance of the apex court's judgement awarding him six-month jail term for contempt of court, has requested urgent listing of his petition seeking bail and setting aside of his conviction.

"Declined. We will not accept an oral request against the judgment," a bench comprising

Chief Justice JS Khehar and Justice DY Chandrachud said.

Advocate Mathew J Nedumpara, representing Justice Karnan, said that he has been serving the jail term and his petition needs to be heard on an urgent basis.

On June 21, a vacation bench of the apex court had refused to entertain the plea of the arrested ex-high court judge saying it "cannot override" the seven-judge bench order in the case.

Karnan, 62, who retired on June 12 as Calcutta High Court judge, was arrested on June 20 by the West Bengal CID. He had been in Coimbatore since May 9 when the apex court held him guilty for contempt of court and sentenced him to six months imprisonment.

Karnan has the dubious distinction of being the first sitting high court judge to be awarded a jail term by the apex court and also the first to have retired as a fugitive.

A seven-judge bench of the Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice of India JS Khehar, had on May 9 directed the West Bengal Director General of Police to take the then serving judge into custody immediately. - PTI

KENNEL & LIVESTOCK

Tinkerbell Baruah
(26.04.06-2.07.17)

Dearloved and sorely missed by her family, the Baruahs of Rodeale Apartments. She was an unwavering light in our lives, and her joy brought us all the hope we could have thought possible. We lovingly hold on to the happy memories she has left us with.

The Syrian Democratic Forces have spent months closing in on the Islamic State group's bastion Raqa and entered the city's east and west for the first time last month.

On Thursday, the US-backed Arab-Kurd alliance sealed off the jihadists' last escape route by capturing territory on the southern bank of the Euphrates.

"Today, they entered Raqa's south for the first time and seized the Al-Hal market," Rami Abdal Rahman, head of the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, said yesterday.

He said some SDF fighters had advanced north across the Euphrates River, while others had taken Al-Hal from the adjacent district of Al-Mesheib in Raqa's east.

"The market is fully under SDF control but IS is waging a counter-attack," Abdal Rahman said.

The SDF's Operation Wrath of the Euphrates announced it had captured the Al-Hal market yesterday.

Abdal Rahman also said 11 civilians, including four women and five children, were killed in coalition air strikes on western Raqa district of Al-

Daraia late yesterday.

The new deaths put at more than 200 the civilian toll from coalition raids on Raqa since the US-backed SDF entered the city on June 6.

The Observatory said "dozens" of SDF fighters had been killed in Raqa in the same period, including 36 in the past week".

The SDF have since seized a handful of neighbourhoods in the east and west but are facing fierce resistance by IS as they push closer to the city centre.

SDF fighters were battling ISIS yesterday inside the eastern district of Al-Semaa, which the jihadists retook after an initial advance by the US-backed forces last month.—AFP increased to around 525 square km. The areas reclaimed are located near the Sonowal Kachari, upstream of Bongoa and also in Birinbari. It is learnt that river training works undertaken by the Board with the use of RCC porcupines and spurs have resulted into above developments.

With these devices, the Brahmaputra main channel has been pushed away from its bank along the island to a considerable distance. Of course, a major channel of the Brahmaputra is still touching its bank along the river island Salma and Bhakat Chaporis areas, while the rest of the island's river bank areas are witnessing silt deposits.

Though porcupines are installed all along the Majuli bank of the Brahmaputra, major porcupine installations were done at upstream of Sonowal Kachari, Jabor Chuk, at upstream of Salma, at Aphalmukh Dikhipur, at Sonowal and at Birinbari Karoirupar area.

The Board also constructed four spurs in Salma-Aphalmukh area and one spur in Sonowal area. Besides, in 2011-12 it built the boulder noses of the spurs at Kandhamal and Sonowal Kachari areas. These spurs were built by the State's Water Resources Department (WRD). The Board has taken recourse to bank re-vetement in four locations for a length of 4.28 km in Jengrai, in Salma and Bhakat Chaporis and in Karoirupar areas. It has constructed two tie-bunds to close the avulsed channels flowing towards the bank.

Petrol scarcity in city

GUWAHATI, July 3: Petrol depots in the city reported scarcity of fuel on Monday in view of a strike called by an oil carrier association and a workers' union over their various demands.

The strike had begun on Saturday, but the carrier association suspended its agitation today. The workers' association is reportedly in talks with the IOC authorities to settle its demands.

The oil scarcity was also aggravated following panic buying by customers yesterday due to a proposed shutdown call by dealers.

The North East India Petroleum Dealers Association had called a shutdown today, but it was withdrawn late last night.

The shutdown was called following an "arbitrary decision" by the IOC to close down a petrol pump in the city. The district administration intervened and asked the IOC to reopen the pump, the association said.

The dealers, however, said the situation would ease in a day or two. — Staff Reporter

The Assam TribuneFriendship dialogue

The Indian Government, as also the Assam State Government, is going all out to woo Bangladesh, as reflected in the rhetoric enunciated in the ongoing 'India-Bangladesh Friendship Dialogue' in Guwahati. Not only has Bangladesh been allowed to open an Assistant High Commission in Assam but the road, rail and water communication channels are also gradually being set up. Though the jury is still out on whether one of Sonowal Government's pet obsessions, dredging of the Brahmaputra, will actually help in combating floods or creating navigable channels, Assam's Chief Minister apparently wants Bangladesh to do ditto on their segment of the mighty river. He also mentioned the removal of a 'major irritant', the land-swap deal, though it is not clear how much that deal benefited his State. Naturally enough, the Bangladeshi Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Sharif Alam dwelt on the constraints including differences on issues such as water sharing and lack of market-access for Bangladeshi products in India. As for India's Minister of State for External Affairs, MJ Akbar, he harped on the importance of Bangladesh as a component of India's Act East Policy. According to him Bangladesh could be an engine of growth in the North-east—although he did not dwell on specifics, he was clearly indicating the possibilities of Bangladesh opening out the Chittagong port as well as removing restrictions on water communication.

Yet, throughout the dialogue, no mention was made of the most crucial issue plaguing this region, one for which hundreds of Assamese martyrs sacrificed their lives. If today the North-east, especially the two narrow valleys of Assam, is suffering from immense pressure on land, it is primarily due to the presence of lakhs of illegal immigrants who it seems are destined to forever remain here. Why is it that the Indian Government or the State Government afraid of taking up the issue of repatriation of detected aliens back to their original country of Bangladesh? The indigenous people of this region harbour a sneaking suspicion that opening of more communication channels with Bangladesh will hinder rather than help in combating the illegal influx problem! This is why one views with concern Akbar's assertion that despite the "political and demographic" turmoil experienced by the North-east in the recent past, there was a "need to move forward," which smacks of a let bygones be bygones philosophy! Unfortunately, Prime Minister Narendra Modi's pledge during the Lok Sabha election campaign, that he would tackle the foreign infiltration problem once and for all, is still ringing in the ears of the people of this region. Similarly, the call by Assam's CM to strengthen trade with Bangladesh by removing barriers is fraught with danger since it might lead to flooding of our markets with cheap products of that country to the detriment of locally-produced commodities.

Flood relief

With the current wave of floods in the State affecting well over a lakh people in nine districts in both the Brahmaputra and Barak valleys, the Government and the administration need to expedite relief for the flood-hit on a war footing. In what has become a routine all these years, thousands of families have been rendered homeless and made to take shelter in makeshift arrangements bereft of proper amenities. As vast expanses of croplands have also been inundated, the flight of the flood-hit—homeless and without any means of livelihood—presents a gargantuan challenge before the Government in terms of rehabilitation. With hundreds of hectares of cropland getting buried under deep layers of sand every year, the situation can degenerate into a serious socio-economic crisis unless tackled immediately by the Government. The floods also keep exposing the lack of preparedness on the part of the authorities despite the fact that floods hit the State in a matter of routine. Therefore, a swift and efficient rescue and relief mechanism would have ensured some much-needed succour for the harrowed families but the disturbing reality is that the authorities continue to be caught on the wrong foot by the deluge. As we now have specialized disaster response forces, better coordination with the administration and other related departments can go a long way in easing the sufferings of the flood-hit.

With flood and erosion wreaking havoc on the State year after year causing extensive damage to agriculture and infrastructure, and jeopardizing the livelihoods of thousands, the time has come for a rethink on the existing flood-control strategy. When lakhs of people are affected by the floods and half the State's cropland comes under floodwater for a prolonged period, one is bound to question the utility of the existing flood-control measures or the wisdom of persisting with those. Over the years thousands of crores of rupees have been invested in flood control but the ground situation remains the same. This is disturbing, and the Government, planners and scientists should do some brainstorming over the developments. With experts now warning that devastating floods could occur with greater frequency due to the climate changes triggered by global warming, the time has come to work out a holistic mitigation strategy. Melting of the Himalayan glaciers and erratic rainfall patterns can no longer be brushed aside as a hype, and the State's geo-climatic conditions strongly warrant a scientific, long-term mechanism to contain the twin menace of floods and erosion. Despite the fact that we have one of the world's largest river systems in the Brahmaputra and its many tributaries coupled with an extreme monsoon, little thought had gone over the years into devising a precise flood-control formula based on scientific data of the Brahmaputra river system. Experts also believe that a lasting flood-control strategy cannot be worked out ignoring the environmental concerns that are intrinsically linked to the worsening of floods in the region.

The black money menace

The Beaten TRACK

DN Bezboruah

The definition of black money is quite simple. It is money made in fairly large quantities that is not shown in the books of accounts so that one does not have to pay income tax on it. Large-scale evasion of income tax had been more or less standard practice for a large number of business houses even during the British rule. The one significant difference now is that there are many more business houses operating in India today than during the colonial rule. Another significant difference is that there was better implementation of the laws of the land during the British rule than there is today. As a result, it was somewhat more difficult for people with large incomes to evade income tax by creating huge hoards of black money. After Independence, things became relatively easier for people to evade taxes and to park their hoards of undeclared incomes in foreign banks. One notices how easily it has become for businesses to evade taxes, create huge hoards of black money and to park a lot of it in foreign banks to escape eventual detection within the country. What is quite obvious is that those individuals and companies that are registered income tax assesses have found it easy to indulge in economic offences involving colossal amounts of money mainly because the system itself has got far more corrupted than it was during the British rule. What is interesting is that just as a corrupt system has facilitated economic offences on a large scale, such activities have gone a long way in perpetuating and promoting corruption in the country.

There is no doubt that the Prime Minister's initiatives against black money will go a long way not only in tackling the menace but also in ensuring that the requisite public support for such initiatives continues to be available in the coming years as well.

Of late, there have been concerted initiatives by the government towards tackling the menace of black money in the country. The first of these was the demonetization move that was criticized as being an ineffective step towards tackling the black money menace. However, this is not an entirely accurate picture of what really happened, considering that the sizeable hoards of black money held in high currency notes became worthless because of the demonetization initiative.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi sees far more relevance than people imagined about tackling the black money menace. Addressing chartered accountants on the foundation day of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in India (ICAI) in New Delhi last Saturday, the Prime Minister virtually directed chartered accountants to act as economic vigilantes by encouraging people to pay evades taxes and to park their hoards of undeclared incomes in foreign banks. One notices how easily it has become for businesses to evade taxes, create huge hoards of black money and to park a lot of it in foreign banks to escape eventual detection within the country. What is quite obvious is that those individuals and companies that are registered income tax assesses have found it easy to indulge in economic offences involving colossal amounts of money mainly because the system itself has got far more corrupted than it was during the British rule. What is interesting is that just as a corrupt system has facilitated economic offences on a large scale, such activities have gone a long way in perpetuating and promoting corruption in the country.

However, it is perhaps a trifle difficult to speculate on how well the chartered accountants have actually taken the Prime Minister's advice and whether there is really the required support from chartered accountants for the measures proposed by the Prime Minister. There is legitimate speculation that the Prime Minister might be attempting to insulate the new tax regime from teething troubles and to project it as another weapon to fight the black money menace. Modi drew a parallel with the role played by lawyers during the freedom struggle. He said, "Chartered accountants have a big responsibility to ensure that society's economic health remains good. Just as doctors don't want people to be ill to get more business, CAs too need to safeguard society's economic health... Do you think that no more than 25 CAs would have indulged in corruption?

accountants become decisive, no one will be able to indulge in corruption," he added. He pointed out that India had over one crore engineers and management professionals and over eight lakh doctors. But only 32 lakh people say that their income is more than Rs 10 lakh. "How is this possible? Do you really think that there are just 32 lakh people whose income is above Rs 10 lakh?" the Prime Minister asked. This was followed by a statement of how the Government had been working to tackle the menace of black money. "Data mining to track black money began on November 8, when demonetization was announced... We found as many as three lakh registered companies whose activities came under suspicion," he said. He added that the Government had cancelled the registration of over one lakh companies in a single stroke and that more than 37,000 shell firms had been identified for strong action.

"The ability to shut down shell companies comes from the strength of being a patriotic Indian. Companies which break the law will be acted against more severely in the future," the Prime Minister warned.

Much of what is happening now against economic offenders will be hailed and supported by the common people. They will naturally also wonder what prevented the earlier Congress governments from initiating tough measures against economic offenders. In fact, what seems to be very obvious is that the earlier Congress regimes did everything possible to help and support a large number of economic offenders who created a whole lot of shell firms that indulged in such economic offences. This should have been evident in the way the Congress rulers replaced the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act (FERA) by the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) that has less Draconian penal provisions than the earlier law. The general trend of the Congress governments has been to be far more lenient in dealing with economic offences than the present government appears to be. One of the side-effects of this was an attitude that was far more indulgent towards economic offences, completely overlooking the fact that any Swachh Bharat Abhiyan (Clean India Campaign) becomes quite meaningless if the economy of the country is allowed to remain dirty. There is no doubt that the Prime Minister's initiatives against black money will go a long way not only in tackling the menace but also in ensuring that the requisite public support for such initiatives continues to be available in the coming years as well.

One of the heartening developments in this regard is that the latest figures available from Swiss banks indicate that the money parked by Indians in Switzerland has dipped to a record low. Switzerland has also decided to begin an automatic information exchange scheme with India in two years from now. There is bound to be speculation on why the scheme cannot begin immediately. Is it because some clients need to be protected by virtue of their long association with Swiss banks? In any case, the very fact that information about Indians who park black money in Swiss banks will be available to the Indian Government in a couple of years bids fair to reduce some existing means of handling black money.

Girls, sanitation and education

■ Dr Dharmakanta Kumbhakar

In India, menstruation and menstrual practices are clouded by taboos and socio-cultural restrictions for girls and women. Menstruation and menstrual hygiene-related discussions are still a taboo in the Indian villages and across a large section of the urban society even now. Though menstruation is a natural process, yet people, even women, hesitate to talk about it. Menstrual hygiene is an issue that every girl and woman has to deal with in her life, but there is lack of awareness regarding menstrual hygiene management (MHM) in India. As a result, most of the Indian girls and women are unaware of the menstrual hygiene-related practices that they should be adopting and their adverse health impacts on them.

As per the fourth National Family Health Survey (NFHS-4) 2015-16, only 57.6% Indian girls and women aged between 15 and 24 years use hygienic methods of protection during their menstrual periods. The figure is 77.5% in urban areas and 48.2% in rural areas. The rest use unsanitary old cloth pieces, papers, dried leaves and grasses, etc. These unhygienic and unsanitary practices lead to a lot of infections such as fungal infections, urinary tract infections, reproductive tract infections, etc., which can cause infertility and even death. Issues associated with menstruation and MHM are never discussed and this hinders the Indian adolescent girls by keeping them ignorant of this biological function. 75% of Indian adolescent girls do not have any idea about what material to use to absorb period flow. Menstrual hygiene is crucial in the reproductive life of every female. Therefore, each and every adolescent girl should have sound knowledge on menstruation and menstrual hygiene-related practices and ideally a mother should be the main informant at this tender age.

In India, about 255 million adolescent girls struggle every month to go to schools and colleges because of their periods. About 200 million rural adolescent girls lack basic education on menstrual hygiene. Sanitary napkins come at a price beyond their affordability. Barely 20% of rural girl students can afford the costly disposable sanitary napkins. The rest 80% can't afford sanitary protection during their periods. Their school days have no place for urination as 40% of the government schools lack separate girls' toilets. They need to go home for urination in the school time during their periods. Most of the government schools in India lack facilities of adequate and private space for changing sanitary napkins, soap and adequate water to wash themselves and their cloths during periods and safe disposal facilities for soiled sanitary napkins. Limited access to safe sanitary products and facilities during their periods forces them to miss five days of school every month (about 20% of the school year). The regular monthly absenteeism in the school often serves as a trigger for school drop-outs. As a result, in five girl students in India are forced to drop out of school because of her period.

This is a matter of grave concern as it can be detrimental to the country's image and economic progress. We should concentrate on girl students so that they don't miss school during their periods thereby not quitting schools. There is a strong need to encourage menstrual hygiene practices among the Indian girl students. MHM training needs to be imparted to girl students. Girl students must be taught MHM by female teachers, female health workers and female members of NGOs in a sensitive and supportive manner. Steps should be taken to encourage and support girls during menstruation, so that they do not miss schools. MHM involves menstrual hygiene education sessions at schools and colleges along with steps to ensure that girls have separate toilets and sanitation blocks located at a safe location to assure adequate privacy, based on a ratio one toilet for every 40 girls (and/or one urinal for every 20 girls), private changing or changing units to change their clothes/sanitary napkins and to wash themselves, provision of sanitary napkin vending machines and incinerators or dustbins for safe disposal of soiled sanitary napkins in schools, colleges and girls hostels. Other than these educational officials and teachers would have to compulsorily undergo MHM training workshops in all districts, so that the girl students get the maximum information related to menstrual hygiene. Moreover, girls can establish 'Girls Hygiene Clubs' for ensuring rural-to-peer learning and sharing of menstrual hygiene information. Apart from MHM training to girl students, there is need to talk to adolescent boys, male teachers and parents about MHM in the context of girl's access to education and school completion. These will not only boost the confidence of the girl students but also improve their attendance in schools during their periods.

There is a need to mobilize the Indian girl students to use sanitary napkins. India should be a 100% sanitary napkin-using girl students' country. Major publicity campaign should be launched for girls to use sanitary napkins to enable them to understand their importance. Commercial sanitary napkins are not cheap. For the girl students, the luxury ofaffording sanitary napkins is a far-fetched dream. The need of the hour is to improve the quality of life of these poor girls by providing them free or highly subsidized and easily accessible sanitary napkins which give them freedom and protection from their monthly dilemma and discomfort. The Government should provide 100% tax exemption instead of imposing 12% tax on sanitary napkins under the new GST regime. Earlier in March 2017, Lok Sabha MP Sushmita Dev submitted her change.org petition to Union Finance Minister Arun Jaitley and two others for removal of tax on sanitary napkins under GST. Though there are government schemes to distribute highly subsidized sanitary napkins for rural areas but their reach remains limited. The scheme needs to improve its coverage. The Government should launch new schemes to provide free sanitary napkins to girl students to reduce the absenteeism of girls in schools during their periods. The scheme will check girl students from dropping out of schools. It will be a massive health booster for girl students and will enhance better academic and personal development of girl students.

Poba reserve forest needs sanctuary status and towards its west are the revenue villages of Jonai subdivision.

As a source of natural resources, Poba is enriched with various plants and animals. This RF is an illustrious place of scientific and medical research. Economically, it has been playing an important role in strengthening the livelihood of the peripheral area people, mostly of ethnic origin. These communities – Mising, Bodo, Sonowal Kachari – are dependent on the forest for their livelihood. Poba is also popular as a tourist place. It is an important elephant corridor linking the foothills of Arunachal Pradesh and the Dibru-Saikhowa National Park via the proposed Kudu Chapor reserve forest. A large number of wild animals like wild boar, buffalo, forest pig, deer, squirrel, monkey, python, and different types of species of birds inhabit Poba.

It is remarkable that the local people of Jonai subdivision, conservation groups like the Nature's Beckon, etc., are fighting to protect and preserve the Poba forest. They are continuously demanding sanctuary status for Poba. It should be declared as a sanctuary as soon as possible for its conservation. Yours etc., GAUTAM SARMAH, Mordihal, Dhemaji.

Vindictive neologism

Sir – This refers to the report captioned 'Patients' Rights Day today' (AT, June 25). In this context, I would like to point out that it is absolutely unjust to equate the practice of medical profession with terrorism. There can be no term as 'medical terrorism', and to the best of my knowledge, this has not been used anywhere else in the world. It is true that medical science cannot always give the expected results. But that does not mean the health care professionals – a doctor, a nurse, a physiotherapist or a pharmacist – deliberately make efforts for a sub-optimal outcome. Health care professionals, like in all other professions, try to dispense their duties with the intent to maintain the highest level of professional integrity. It is but a perversion to think that a health care professional inflicts terror in the minds of patients or their relatives. Creating awareness regarding the health care scenario of the country is important, but vindictive neologism for that purpose is only to be discouraged. This will tend to mislead the society towards mistrust and more friction between the health care professionals and the patients. Yours etc., DR SUKALYAN DEY, Guwahati.

IS defeat

Sir – These days, the attention of the international media is dragged by an ancient city of northern Iraq named Mosul, where the storming confrontation between the Iraqi Government forces and the much-dreaded radical terrorist outfit Islamic State is taking place. Mosul is considered to be the headquarters of ISIS or ISIL. This is the place on the bank of the river Tigris where, from the great mosque of al-Nuri in July 2014, the ISIS supreme leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi declared his 'caliphate'. A caliphate is a term used to represent a huge area inhabited by the members of the Muslim community ruled by a religious 'successor' of Prophet Muhammad. Off late, Iraqi Prime Minister Haider al-Abadi announced that the ISL's 'state of falsehood' had ended after the government forces retook the al-Nuri mosque. The general people are expecting that this is the final defeat for the terror outfit. The entire world is longing to see the end of the ISL. Yours etc., RANJAN DAS, Mirza.

Strong political leadership lacking to solve foreigners' problem: Dr Saikia

CORRESPONDENT

MORIGAON, July 3: The 54th foundation day of Morigaon College was celebrated by the students, teachers and ex-students on the college premises with a two-day colourful programmes on June 30 and July 1.

The first day's programme began with the Guru Charan Medhi memorial lecture which was attended by all the professors, senior citizens and old and new students of the college. The lecture on the topic, "Modern Assam: Aberrant traditions, events and its results" was delivered by noted historian of Assam, Dr Rajen Saikia. He said in his lecture that it was a historical aberration that Assam's sovereignty was handed over to British by the Burmese people that this influx from East Bengal was not opposed by the then Assamese leaders of Congress. Ambikagiri Roy Choudhury was the only exception, who vehemently opposed and criticised this nefarious design of the British, added Dr Saikia.

Dr Saikia said that the aberration that took place in the pre-independence period could not be solved and it was matter of regret that in the last 100 years there was no strong political leadership in Assam to solve this foreigners' problem. Dr Saikia said that there has been no economic development in the State and no State Government after independence took any scientific step for the development of the people of Assam. Coming down heavily on the autonomous council idea to develop different tribes of Assam, Dr Saikia said that it was also an aberration and added that development does not mean parochial political gains.

Students felicitated: As many as 54 students who passed the HSLC and HS examinations getting distinction and star marks from Morigaon district were felicitated formally here at Morigaon under the auspices of the Morigaon unit of the All Assam Students'

Union (AASU).

An open meeting held on the occasion at the Morigaon District Library Auditorium was presided over by Lokendra Chettri, president, Morigaon unit of AASU. Addressing the gathering of students and guardians, Heman Das, Director Co-operative, Morigaon said that the brilliant students of the district must have the social responsibility for the all round development of the people. The DC said that though the successful students showed a brilliant result in the first step of life, yet they have a long way ahead to establish themselves as good human beings in the society in future.

Participating as the chief guest, Lurin Jyoti Gogoi, general secretary, AASU said that it is the educational policy of AASU to inspire all the brilliant students of Assam who showed their calibre in different examinations including the APSC and UPSC. He appealed to the students to serve the people of Assam when our society is plagued with a multitude of problems. Vehemently criticising the move against the mother language medium schools, Gogoi said that the Assamese middle class mindset of worthless imitation of English medium will destroy the Assamese society.

Speaking on the occasion, Pradip Saikia, Senior Professor, Morigaon College criticised the mark-oriented education system which lacks morality. He said that the majority of the educated and the intellectuals of Assam are corrupt. He also appealed to the society to think about the plight of the majority of the students who failed the HSLC examination due to several reasons. Prof Saikia asked whether there was any no human qualities among the failed students from where we may produce sportsmen, artists, singers and other successful people.

Legal service awareness camp: The District Legal Service Authority (DLSA), Morigaon organised a legal service awareness programme on June 28 at Morigaon district Tribal Sangha's conference hall. The awareness meeting was held under the presidency of Ranjita Agarwal, secretary, DLSA, Morigaon.

Addressing the gathering, Kumud Chandra Mahanta, senior advocate, Morigaon Bar Association said that due to lack of education, tribal people suffer a lot in legal matters. He urged the leading citizens of the society to come forward to create awareness about free legal service among the poor tribal people.

Speaking on the occasion, Pranab Jyoti Mosrong, president, Morigaon District Tribal Sangha thanked the DLSA, Morigaon for taking the initiative to educate the poor, illiterate tribal people about free legal service. He appealed to the legal authorities to organise more such awareness camps in the future. Ranjita Agarwal, secretary DLSA, Morigaon dwelt at length about free legal service to the poor under DLSA.

Erosion posing major threat to many areas of Sonitpur dist

SHAMBHU BORO

TEZPUR, July 3: Every year during the rainy season, the people living on the bank of rivers such as Gabharu, Jhahbarali, Dipota, Belsiri, Pachnoi, Sopai etc., in Sonitpur district have to confront the threats posed by flood and erosion caused by these rivers.

Flood and erosion have been causing untold miseries to thousands of people in Sonitpur district since the past several years as these rivers have already eroded thousands of bighas of cropland and residential plots.

Moreover, after a number of culverts on the Barthapuri connecting road were washed away in the floods, the people of the greater area are facing a major communication problem. Besides this, the houses of hundreds of people in Cheminari village are still under water.

The people living in the riverine areas of many areas in the district, particularly in Bardubi, Solmari and Kothalduba area under Dhekiajuli revenue circle and in Nabil-Nankey area and in Khagorjan area under Thelamara revenue circle have expressed their strong resentment over the alleged indifferent attitude of the Government and the local public representatives towards this serious issue.

"Till date no one from the department concerned or the local public representative has visited our area to take stock of the situation," flood and erosion victims alleged.

Records reveal that till the last summer, over a 200 sq km area was eroded in Sonitpur district by the major tributaries of river Brahmaputra between Golpur to Dhekiajuli. Moreover, it is a matter of extreme regret that in the 15 years of Congress rule in the State, in this belt the department concerned spent crores of rupees to check the flood and erosion problem, but there was no positive result mainly due to the alleged misappropriation of allotted funds.

It is to be stated here that the people of the Bardubi, Solmari and Kothalduba area under Dhekiajuli revenue circle have been passing sleepless nights as already many bighas of cropland and residential plots have been eroded in the last few days. In the Nabil-Nankey area, due to the flood and erosion fury caused by the Gabharu river, many people have been displaced. People of the area alleged that during the 2016-17 financial year an allocation of Rs 50 lakh was made to check the erosion problem, but due to the siphoning of the lion's share of the allotted fund by the contractor concerned in nexus with the contractor, poor quality work was executed in the area with the result that the problem remained as such, compounding the woes of the local public. Sources also revealed that a large area in Golpur and its adjoining places has been affected by flood and erosion.

Hundreds of people have been displaced and more than 300 metres of land have been eroded at Arimora Suti, Paken and Sarabah under the Golpur subdivision. Water Resources Department sources disclosed that more than a 2-sq km area has been eroded by the Brahmaputra in the Behali-Silmari area in Biswanath.

Similarly, more than 4-sq km area at Panpur in Biswanath, a 5-sq km area from Biswanath to Solmari, and a one-and-a-half sq km area at Bhojani under Dhekiajuli have been eroded. Land area measuring at least 28 sq km from Blumuragi to Haibagoni, and at Parbatia, Gabharu, Singri, Telagoni and Sitolmoni under Tezpur and Barchali LACs have been eroded.

On the other hand, the Jhahbarali has eroded 12.50 sq km of land. Available statistics reveal that a 2-sq km area in Bordikorai, 3-sq km area from Samdhora to Orang Basti, one-and-a-half sq km area at Singitoli, 2-sq km area from Dikorjan to Kuttamora, 1-sq km area at Kurukani and about 3-sq km area have been eroded at Raiger-Tengakhuretiring room, installation of overhead PVC water tanks with iron removal plants.

It was also informed that the entire station will be improvised into a state-of-the-art railway station. "We have planned to decorate the gate and the walls of the station with craft and paintings from all over the district to give the passengers a view of the history, culture and tradition of the area," said the CPRO.

He also added that the project has been finalised and they will soon start the field works after the completion of a few more paper works. Sharma also said that apart from upgrading the station, the NFR is also planning to connect the station with more number of trains. "As per the demands of the people of Dhubri, we are working hard and will soon start the plying of the Dhubri-Silghat Rajyaran Express, on a daily basis," he said.

CORRESPONDENT

DHUBRI, July 3: In a bid to promote the tourism potential of Dhubri district, the North East Frontier Railway (NFR) has decided to give a special status to Dhubri Railway Station by upgrading it with reference to its religious importance.

Although the Dhubri railway station is one of the oldest railway stations in the entire Northeast but due to lack of traffic and other demographic and geographic issues, it has been classified as an E-category railway station.

As per the details of the project, the platforms of the station will be raised from low-level passenger platforms to high-level platforms. Provisions of hydrant pipelines with yard drainage will be made and passenger platform sheds will be extended to five bays. The upgradation process will also include an extension of the circulating area, construction of 8-bed rooms visit Gurudwara Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur Sahib, the Mahamaya temples of the district, the Panbari Rangmati Masjid etc., every year. If the railway communication to the town is developed, then we hope that the pilgrims will multiply. He added, "The NFR has sanctioned an amount of Rs 3.4 crore on June, 2016 just to develop the Dhubri railway station. With this amount of money, the station will be upgraded and better passenger facilities will be available."

For pushing economic growth

G20 should support open trade: WTO

NEW DELHI, July 3: The World Trade Organisation (WTO) has asked the G20 group of nations including India and the US to take lead in promoting open trade globally for pushing economic growth and development.

In its monitoring report on G20 trade measures, the Geneva-based multi-lateral body has also stated that trade restriction measures in G20 economies have risen at a moderate rate despite an uncertainty in global economy.

G20 is a group of developed and developing countries that also includes Australia, Brazil, China, France, UK and the European Union.

A total of 42 new trade-restrictive measures were applied by G20 economies during the review period (mid-October 2016 to mid-May 2017), including new or increased tariffs, customs regulations and rules of origin restrictions, the report said.

This is an average of six measures per month – slightly higher than in 2016, it added.

It called on "G20 governments to show leadership in supporting open and mutually beneficial trade as a driver of economic growth and development".

WTO Director-General

Roberto Azevedo said there is a high level of economic and policy uncertainty, and "therefore we need to remain vigilant".

Efforts should be stepped up to avoid implementing new trade-restrictive measures and to reverse existing measures, he said, adding that the member countries of the bloc should seek to continue improving the global trading environment, including by implementing the WTO's trade facilitation pact.

However, it also said that the economies have also implemented 42 measures that are aimed at facilitating trade during the elimination or reduction of tariffs and the simplification of customs procedures.

The report assumes significance as the WTO in September 2016 lowered its global trade growth forecast for this year to 1.7 per cent, stating that this slowdown is "serious" and should serve as a "wake-up call" for nations.

India's exports are recording a positive growth since September 2016. In May, the exports grew by 8.32 per cent to $24 billion, even as the trade deficit shrank up to a nearly month high of $13.84 billion, mainly due to increase in gold imports. - PTI

ASCI upholds complaints against 130 misleading ads

MUMBAI, July 3: Advertising sector watchdog ASCI upheld complaints against 130 misleading advertisements in April, including those of Godrej Consumer Products, Hindustan Unilever, Reliance Communications and Vodafone.

The Customer Complaints Council (CCC) of Advertising Standards Council of India (ASCII) upheld complaints against 130 of 199 advertisements reported to it.

It upheld complaint against Reliance Communications for its fastest 4G network claim, saying it "was not substantiated and is misleading by exaggeration."

For Vodafone India's advertisement, it said, "in view of the limit of 300 minutes/day as mentioned in the advertisement, the claim, 'Rs 328 + unlimited local /STD calls for 28 days', is misleading."

It found Godrej Consumer Products' Cinthad advertisement "misleading by ambiguity and omission", since the free pack on offer was of smaller size. "Buy 3 Get 1 Free" is prominently displayed on the front of pack. However, this declaration is misleading by ambiguity and omission as the fourth pack is not of the same size. While the said claim was qualified by a disclaimer to declare the details of the free offer - 'Buy 3 units of 125g soaps and get 1 unit of 75g free', the placement position of the disclaimer was not on the same panel of the packaging," said the ad regulator.

It also pulled up Hindustan Unilever's Peppermint Germi Check advertisement and said it was misleading by omission of other measures required to be taken for protection from carries after eating sugary food. - PTI

Fruitful friendship

Forging friendships at workplace boosts productivity of employees, says a study

Forging close friendships at workplace improves productivity and performance of employees, according to a global study. A best friend at work not only has a significant impact on an employee's well-being, but also helps in improving overall work performance, it said.

The conclusion was based on a survey carried out among more than 2,300 working professionals from countries around the world, including the US, UK, Canada, Australia and Germany.

About 76 per cent of the employees surveyed, who have a best friend at work, said they were able to see the positive impact of bonding, compared to 63 per cent who didn't have a best friend at work, according to the 'Health and Well-being Study', conducted by employee recognition company OC Tanner.

Having a good friend at work made a difference in employee satisfaction, loyalty and productivity, it said.

The study revealed that 72 per cent of the employees, who have a best friend at work, are satisfied with their jobs compared to only 54 per cent of those who didn't have one.

It said 71 per cent of the employees who have a good friend at work feel a sense of belonging to the company they currently work in.

While only 51 per cent of those surveyed who didn't have a best friend at work have an emotional connect with the organisation they are now working with, the study added.

Further, about 81 per cent of the employees who have a best friend at work are satisfied with their life overall, compared to 73 per cent of those who didn't have any best buddy at their workplace.

The study found that 75 per cent of the employees who have a best friend at work say they're able to 'take anything on', compared to 58 per cent of those who didn't have one.

The employees, who have a best friend at work, are recognised more frequently for their contributions and feel more appreciated than those who didn't have a best friend, most likely because they are more involved and engaged than without a buddy, it added.

Those employees who received recognition often or always, 56 per cent have a best friend at work, compared to 24 per cent of those who didn't, it said.

The study revealed that 72 per cent of the employees, who have a best friend at work, are satisfied with their jobs compared to only 54 per cent of those who didn't have one.

Know your DAY

By JACQUELINE BIGAR

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Tuesday, July 4, 2017.

This year you open up new ideas, which you probably will apply to at least one area of your life. Others enjoy your uniqueness and your ability to approach new situations with optimism. If you are single, be aware of a potential suitor's qualities before you get involved. Be open to dating until you find someone you can trust. You are more likely to experience relationship benefits from taking short trips away together. These special times cement your bond, so that you can endure more stressful periods in the future. SCORPIO loves to get together.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Intense; 2-Sensitive.

 Just being yourself could be a source of tension today, as you are likely to do the unexpected and provoke others. You also demonstrate more caring and understanding toward a sibling or close friend. If throwing a celebration, invite a neighbor. Tonight: Let the party begin.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

You are more likely to keep your friends, but it appears as if someone else is in control of the plan. Whether you are going to someone's house for a party or just to the movies, you might want to change your agenda. Spend some time with a loved one. Tonight: Be doleful and caring.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 You may want to keep a low profile. Generally, you prefer to be in the middle of what is happening. You'll likely be the one facilitating what is happening, whether it's flipping the burgers at a barbecue or pointing out that it's time to watch the fireworks. Tonight: All smiles. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

You are more likely to let go of certain restrictions and inhibitions. If you stay centered, you'll have a reason to celebrate. A wish or desire of yours is about to become a reality. Reach out to someone at a distance and wish them a happy Fourth. Tonight: Follow the music.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 Entertain from home to maximize this Fourth of July. Your entertainments doesn't have to be a big party or barbecue, but it does have to have your caring touch. You know how to have fun and help others celebrate. Be more forthcoming in your dealings. Tonight: Be with the one you love.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 You might be spending too much, but perhaps you're not ready to rein yourself in just yet. Think "long term," and cut costs where you can today. A tendency to overindulge in some way is likely to mark your day. You are more likely to be a social butterfly. Tonight: Re却 to a close loved one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

 You will feel very good anywhere you go. Others seem to gravitate toward you. Make the most of the moment and your mood. People are likely to seek you out for some one-on-one conversations. News about your family will bring a smile to your face. Tonight: The party goes on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 Sit back and let a loved one take control. You don't need to be at the center of what is happening. Open up to new possibilities that might be presented. You need to relax more and allow others to run with the show. You are more likely to express your or her admiration.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

 You might have avoided a discussion with a loved one for quite a while, but that is no longer a possibility. Try to be good-natured and remain open to having this conversation. You could be a little confrontational, though. And the results? Tonight: The only answer is "yes."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

 You might need to be more active or take the lead at a social event. You'll sense some confusion over a money matter. The solution is obvious to others, but not to you. As a result, you are likely to seek out more information from your financial advisor. Tonight: A forced to behold.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

 Follow your sixth sense, and you'll land well. A new approach and more happiness become possible. Be willing to take a trip to a friend, if not today then in the near future. Good vibes mark your interactions. Tonight: Be clear about what someone wants from you.

Serious provocation, says China

BEIJING, July 3: China has scrambled naval ships and military jets to "warn off" a US missile destroyer sailing close to an artificial island built by it in the disputed South China Sea and denounced Washington's move as a "serious political and military provocation".

Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Lu Kang said in a statement late last night that China had dispatched military vessels and fighter planes in response to warn off the US vessel.

Yesterday, the missile destroyer USS Stethem "trespassed China's territorial waters off the Xisha Islands", state-run Xinhua news agency reported.

The US behaviour constitutes a serious political and military provocation, Lu said, stressing that the Chinese side is strongly dissatisfied with and firmly opposed it.

Stethem passed less than 22 kms from tiny Triton Island in the Paracel Islands archipelago, which China calls Xisha islands. The island chain is also claimed by Taiwan and Vietnam.

While China claims sovereignty over almost all of the South China Sea, the other countries to partially counterclaim over the area are Vietnam, Philippines, Malaysia, Brunei and Taiwan.

This is the second US naval ship to have passed the disputed islands after President Donald Trump came to power.

The US has been periodically sending the naval ships and planes to the South

US warship near South China Sea

China Sea to assert freedom of navigation challenging China's claims of sovereignty.

China comes out with similar reaction every time the US naval ships pass through the area. Lu said the Islands are an inherent part of the Chinese territory, noting that in accordance with the Law of China on the Territorial Sea and the Contiguous Zone, the Chinese government promulgated the baseline of the territorial sea off the Xisha Islands in 1996.

Qatar given 48 more hrs to meet Gulf demands

Riyadh, July 3: Saudi Arabia and three other Arab countries that issued an ultimatum to Qatar over its alleged support to terrorism have extended by two more days the deadline for the country to accept their demands or face further sanctions.

The initial deadline for Qatar to agree to the group's 13 demands, including the shutting down of the Al Jazeera news network, expired on Sunday. BBC reported.

Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Bahrain and Egypt issued a joint statement late Sunday that they have extended the ultimatum for 48 more hours at the request of Kuwaiti emir Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah.

Qatar, which denies funding extremism, will submit a formal response on Monday. The country has already called the demands an "affront to international law".

The four Gulf countries in June severed diplomatic and trade ties with Qatar, which they accuse of supporting Iran and harbouring terrorist organisations like the Muslim Brotherhood, the Islamic State, and giving them a platform on the Al Jazeera channel.

The Foreign Ministers of these four nations will meet on Wednesday to discuss the situation. The list of demands to overcome the crisis comprised 13 points, including the end of diplomatic relations with Iran and the closure of a Turkish military base in the emirate.

Qatari Foreign Minister Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdul Rahman al-Thani arrived in Kuwait on Monday to deliver a formal response in the form of a letter from the Emir of Qatar to the Emir of Kuwait.

In a statement, lawyers for Qatar denounced the demands and called for international condemnation.

They said the tactics were "reminiscent of the extreme and punitive conduct of 'bully' states that have historically reflected in war".

"The world must unite immediately to halt the singling out of Qatar for unjustified collective punishment and humiliation and to preserve peace, security and prosperity in the region," the statement said. — IANS

"The relevant Chinese law has explicit provisions on foreign military vessels' entry into the territorial sea of China," Lu said.

Under the pretext of "navigation freedom," the US once again sent a military vessel into China's territorial waters off the Xisha Islands without China's approval, Lu said.

He said the behaviour of US has violated the Chinese law and relevant international law, infringing upon China's sovereignty, disrupted peace, security and order of the relevant waters and put in jeopardy the facilities and personnel on the Chinese islands.

China says there are problems for international navigation through the SCS but objects to defence vessels going through on the Chinese islands.

Working together, China and ASEAN member states have cooled down and improved the situation in the South China Sea. Lu said charging US of deliberately stirring up troubles in the South China Sea... — PTI

Stindl tap-in wins Germany Confederations Cup

SAINT PETERSBURG, July 3: Lars Stindl's simple tap-in, following a costly first-half blunder by Marcelo Diaz, was enough to give Germany a 1-0 win over Chile in the Confederations Cup final.

Diaz's momentary lapse in concentration last night let Timo Werner rob him of possession, draw the goalkeeper and pass to Stindl, who scored into an empty net on 20 minutes in Saint Petersburg.

"Unbelievable," beamed Germany captain Julian Draxler, who won the Golden Ball for the tournament's best player.

"We fought well and deserved this win. We hadn't played together before the tournament, which makes it even more valuable."

"Every title is special, but with this young team, it's even more so."

"Now we can all go on holiday – and even take the trophy with us," he added with a grin.

This is the first time Germany, the defending World Champions, have won the Confederations Cup in the eighth edition of the pre-World Cup tournament.

"There was not much difference between the two teams," said Chile captain Claudio Bravo, voted the tournament's best goalkeeper.

"We are sad not to have won, but we played against a world-class team and must learn from our mistakes."

The video assistant referee (VAR) again came into the spotlight as Chile's Gonzalo Jara was lucky not to be sent off in the second half.

Despite his elbow in the face of Werner being reviewed by the VAR, the defender was only booked for 65 minutes.

Werner, Stindl and Leon Goretzka all finished with three goals but RB Leipzig striker Werner took the top scorer's prize by virtue of also supplying two assists.

Despite dominating for long spells, Chile failed to turn 61 per cent possession and 20 shots – compared to the Germans' eight – into goals.

Soaked Loew hails Germany's rising stars

Loew

SAINT PETERSBURG, July 3: Joachim Loew has hailed Germany's next generation of stars after beating Chile 1-0 in Sunday's Confederations Cup final – but says the challenge is to defend the World Cup next year.

Lars Stindl's simple tap-in was enough to seal Germany's victory in Sunday's final in St Petersburg as the youthful World Champions lifted the Confederations Cup for the first time.

Germany's head coach cut a soggy figure at the post-match press conference when his players stormed the stage and showed their heads in beer-soaked shirt.

"I am immensely proud of this team, we have only been together for three-and-a-half weeks," said Loew in a beer-soaked shirt.

"You could feel something was happening in training, we came together and it's a really defended win."

Loew took a gamble by leaving first-choice stars like Thomas Mueller, Jerome Boateng, Toni Kroos and Mesut Ozil at home and bringing inexperienced youngsters to Russia.

Germany's captain Julian Draxler was voted the Confederations Cup's player of the tournament and striker Timo Werner finished as the top scorer in Russia with three goals and two assists.

Germany football has a bright future after their Under-21 team were crowned European champions on Friday in Poland.

However, head coach Loew says the hard work for his rising stars is just beginning as they bid to earn a place in die Mannschaft's squad for next year's World Cup.

Only three of the Confederations Cup winning team – Jnos Hector Joshua Kimmich and Julian Draxler – are first-choice starters.

"Despite our success here and with the juniors in Poland, we'll still have to reconfirm our victories next year (at the World Cup), but the job starts now, the work is just beginning," said Loew.

"The young ones are only just coming up, this is the first tournament for many of these players."

"They have done well, but staying at the top is another matter and we will have to work hard to defend our title next year."

"The team had to fight back, the Chileans are very robust and things were heating up in the second half, we were fighting for every metre to defend our lead."

"It was a magic match for our young players, they haven't had much experience, but they showed their single-minded determination, which was quite impressive."

Chile were lucky not to have defender Gonzalo Jara sent off for elbowing Werner in the face during the second half, but despite a review by the video assistant referee (VAR), Jara was only booked. – AFP

S Korea's Moon urges IOC to help bring North to Pyeongchang

SEOUL, July 3: South Korean President Moon Jae-In today urged the International Olympic Committee to help North Korea participate in next year's Winter Games, saying it would contribute to regional and world peace.

Moon, who has advocated engagement with the isolated neighbour, has suggested that two Koreas form a joint team for the 2018 Winter Games, which the South is hosting in Pyeongchang. The South and the nuclear-armed North are separated by one of the world's most heavily-armed borders and remain technically at war after the Korean War ended with armistice in 1953 instead of a peace treaty. Pyongyang boycotted the 1988 Olympics in Seoul. Organisers of Pyeongchang 2018 have urged Pyongyang to take part to make them a "peace Olympics".

Moon

But no North Korean athletes have so far qualified for the Games, raising the prospect that none will attend.

An inter-Korea unified team could allow North Koreans to take part in team events such as ice hockey while "wild cards" could enable them to bypass the qualification rules.

Meeting the IOC chief Thomas Bach in Seoul, Moon renewed his push for "sports diplomacy", urging Bach's help to enable the North to take part.

"If North Korea participates, it will contribute not only to the Olympic spirit but also to regional and world peace as well as the harmony of humankind," Moon's spokesman quoted him as saying.

"I hope that Pyeongchang Olympics will become the Olympics of peace that could heal the pain of Koreans' division," Moon was quoted as saying. – AFP

Chennaiyin FC appoint Gregory as head coach

CHENNAI, July 3: Chennaiyin FC today appointed former Aston Villa manager John Gregory as their head coach replacing Italian Marco Materazzi.

The 63-year-old Gregory has over four decades of experience as a player and coach with six appearances as "full international" for the England national team.

His coaching career started at Portsmouth and then he had spells at Plymouth Argyle and Wycombe Wanderers before moving to Aston Villa in the English Premier League.

Under Gregory's guidance Aston Villa finished runners-up in the 2000 FA Cup after losing to Chelsea in the last ever FA Cup final at the Old Wembley

SA skipper du Plessis to miss first Test

LONDON, July 3: South Africa captain Faf du Plessis will miss the first Test against England which gets underway tomorrow due to family reasons, Cricket South Africa announced on their website on Monday.

The 32-year-old batsman – who became only the fourth South African to score a century on his Test debut in 2012 – returned home for the birth of his first child last week, but will be unable to return in time for the opening match of the four-Test series.

"Faf's wife gave birth to their first child last week but the difficult nature of the delivery has delayed his return to the UK," said South Africa team manager Dr Mohammed Moosajee. – AFP

'Knew it won't be easy for Pakistan to chase 170'

DERBY, July 3: India skipper Mithali Raj said she knew it would not be easy for Pakistan to chase 170 as the pitch deteriorated in the second half during their ICC Women's World Cup match.

Starting first, India suffered a batting collapse before reaching 160 for nine and Mithali praised Sushma Verma and Jhanvi Goswami for their lower-order contributions.

"When you lose first wicket in first 10 overs, it naturally puts us under pressure," said Mithali. "But otherwise it was a good bowling line-up."

"It is important to continue the momentum but it is again not everyday that same batters will score runs and I am happy that someone has stood up to those runs," she said.

"It is important that we got this opportunity to reflect on our batting order because the next matches are equally important for the team."

Her counterpart Sana Mir was happy with Pakistan's bowling effort but rued their poor batting performance which according to her cost them the match.

"This is our best bowling performance against India in ODIs. In the last few overs we leaked 10 or 20 runs, but otherwise it was a very good bowling performance. With a better batting performance we could have had a better match," Mithali told reporters after the match.

"The chance Baig brings a spark to the team (the field), she's a wonderful athlete and the way she bowled, as a captain I'm very proud. Nashra (Sandhu) was our key bowler in the qualifiers before coming to the World Cup and again she proved to be really good today."

"I think the top order played too many cross-batted shots and against a good bowling line-up, there's no future if you play cross-batted shots," said Sana.

India will take on Sri Lanka in their next game here, while Pakistan will face Australia at Leicester on Wednesday. – PTI

I'll urge Pacquiao to quit, says trainer Roach

BRISBANE, July 3: Manny Pacquiao's trainer advised the Filipino legend to quit boxing today after his sensational defeat to unheralded Australian Jeff Horn.

While controversy raged over the scoring of Sunday's World Boxing Organization welterweight title bout in Brisbane, after all three judges awarded it to unbeaten Horn, there were doubts whether the 38-year-old Pacquiao would return for a possible rematch.

Hall of Fame trainer Freddie Roach said he would consider advising Pacquiao to retire after a glittering 22-year professional career in which he won world titles at an unprecedented eight weight divisions.

"I'm going to talk to Manny about maybe calling it a day because this is it," Roach said.

Given no chance by most observers, the 29-year-old Horn's ultra-aggressive style rocked Pacquiao, with the three judges scoring the fight 117-111, 115-113 and 115-113 to the Australian before 51,000 fans at Suncorp Stadium.

Pacquiao, (59-7-2) who insisted on a contract for the fight, declared however that he would "absolutely" return for a rematch.

"We have a clause for a rematch. No problem," Pacquiao said in the ring after the judges' decision.

"We have a clause for a rematch. No problem," Pacquiao said in the ring after the judges' decision.

"If they let Manny fight again, that's stupid," Fenech said.

"He should go relax and enjoy the money he has made. He's got nothing to prove. Retire."

Jeff fought the right fight and took Manny to places he'd never been before... He made it a dirty fight."

A sense of Pacquiao's declining powers is that the Philippines senator hasn't stopped an opponent in eight years.

Roach however called for an investigation into the scoring of American judge Waleska Rodan.

She had the bout 117-111 to Horn, giving Pacquiao only three of the 12 rounds, despite Horn finishing the fight fully bruised and with a shut-eye right.

According to CompuBox statistics, Pacquiao landed almost twice as many punches as Horn – 182 to 92. Judges American Chris Flores and Argentine Ramon Cerdan both thought it was closer, but Horn had edged the fight 115-113.

"I respect the judges' decision," Pacquiao said. "He was much tougher than I expected. Much, much tougher."

Pacquiao told Philippines television: "We thought that we won this fight."

However, Top Rank veteran supervisor Bob Arum, who was ringside, felt the win was fair. "It could have gone either way," he said.

"He was dead in the water in round nine, he was gone," Jeff said.

"I was very worried," Jeff said. "I had a towel I may have thrown it myself in the ninth. I looked at his eyes and I thought he was out on his feet. I really thought he was in danger of getting hurt in round nine." – AFP

Holder leads West Indies to ODI win over India

ANTIGUA, July 3: West Indies captain Jason Holder led from the front with a five-wicket haul as his side snatched a 11-run victory against India in the fourth One Day International in Antigua on Sunday.

India came into the match at the Sir Vivian Richards Stadium leading 2-0 in the series and set a modest target of 190 to maintain their unbeaten run in this campaign.

But the visitors were undone by a combination of disciplined West Indies bowling and their own inexplicable lethargy at the crease.

India needed 15 runs off the final over with only two wickets in hand.

It was Keshav Williams' only success of a miserly 10-over spell but proved critical as Holder sealed the win which keeps the series alive heading into the fifth and final match in Kingston on Thursday.

He dismissed Kuldeep Yadav and Mohammed Shami in the space of four balls to finish with five for 27, his best-ever ODI figures as India folded for 178.

"At the halfway stage there were a few heads dropping in the dressing room but it took a big effort and I'm really pleased to play a part in keeping us in the series," said Holder after receiving the man of the match award.

"We targeted getting wickets at the front to challenge their other batters who haven't had much work to do of late. It worked this time."

Ajinkya Rahane's excellent form at the top of the order continued with a top score of 60, but the rest of the Indian batting struggled to establish any sort of momentum as the West Indies showed discipline and purpose with the ball.

Young fast bowler Alzarri Joseph, brought into the team in place of medium-pacer Miguel Cummins, set the tone for the fightback with the wickets of Shikhar Dhawan and Dinesh Karthik.

Meanwhile, Holder removed his Indian counterpart, Virat Kohli, for folded for 178.

West Indies skipper Jason Holder pumps his fist after dismissing Hardik Pandya during the 4th ODI at Antigua, on Sunday.

the second time in as many matches via a top-edged hook.

"Our shot selection wasn't up to mark but credit to the West Indies bowlers for the pressure they put on us to force those mistakes," said Kohli in assessing his team's surprise defeat.

"I am sure the guys are going to come back extra hard for the final match. We just needed a complete performance and today wasn't."

Earlier pacers Umesh Yadav and Hardik Pandya claimed three wickets each while spinner Kuldeep Yadav again teased and tormented the West Indies batsmen in adding two more victims to his series haul as the hosts limped to 189 for nine batting first.

While each of the top five managed to get a start, none could get past 35 as India exerted almost complete control over a line-up that lacked the inspirational spark to put the opposition under pressure.

Openers Evin Lewis and Kyle

Hope were the joint top scorers with 35 apiece although their slow progress, the opening stand of 57 was broken in the 18th over; meant those who followed were required to pick up the pace.

Performance drug used by Armstrong not effective'

LONDON, July 3: EPO, a doping drug that was used by American cyclist Lance Armstrong — for which he was stripped of his seven Tour de France titles — may have little effect on performance of athletes, a study has found.

One of the most celebrated athletes, the road racing cyclist Armstrong was the 1993 professional world champion, and had won the Tour de France a record seven consecutive times from 1999 to 2005.

However, in 2012, he was banned from sanctioned Olympic sports for life and stripped of his seven Tour de France titles after he confessed to using the drug erythropoietin (EPO).

Researchers from Centre for Human Drug Research in the Netherlands conducted a trial on about 48 well-trained non-professional male cyclists aged between 18 and 50 years.

They found that while performance improved in high-intensity tests, endurance and road race performances were similar for those who took the drug EPO and those who did not.

The aim was to increase the levels of haemoglobin in the participants of the EPO group by 10-15 per cent compared to the start of the study.

The doses used were consistent with known practices in professional cycling. — PTI

Bangar blames batsmen for loss to Windies in 4th ODI

NORTH SOUND (Antigua)

JULY 3: The pitch was slow and shot-making difficult but India's coach Sanjay Bangar said these factors cannot cover up for the fact that batsmen "let the team down" in the lost fourth one-dayer against the West Indies.

Chasing a modest 190 to win, the Indian willow-wielders found the going tough on a two-paced Antigua pitch to lose the fourth ODI by 11 runs and allow the West Indies to stay alive in the five-match series.

India, however, lead the series 2-1 after the first ODI was abandoned due to rain.

"It (the pitch) kept getting slower and shot-making wasn't really easy. Those have been the nature of wickets we have seen so far. But we didn't really bat to say we have been playing on wickets which have been difficult. Credit to them (West Indies). They executed their plans really well but I just felt it was a very gettable score," he added.

Chasing the modest target, India lost three wickets, including that of Virat Kohli, inside the 50-run mark before Ajinkya Rahane (60 off 91) and Mahendra Singh Dhoni (54 off 114) steered the ship with a crawling but crucial 54-run stand for the fourth wicket.

But India couldn't finish off the chase as they witnessed another collapse towards the end with Kedar Jadhav, Hardik Pandya, Ravindra Jadeja and Dhoni departing in quick succession. — PTI
