DARJEELING, June 14:

The Gorkha Janamukti Morcha (GJM)-led shutdown in the Darjeeling hills completed day three today with a demand being taken out to demand a separate Gorkhaland State and police patrolling troubled areas to quell any violence.

Most shops in and around Chowkhazar and Mall Road in the hill town were closed.

Policemen were on high alert with patrolling under way in several areas. No untoward incident was reported till afternoon.

The GJM, along with other hill parties, took out a demand in several areas of the hills demanding a separate State of Gorkhaland.

GJM SHUTDOWN TO GJM

The GJM unanimously sponsored indefinite shutdown of government and Gorkhaland Territorial Administration (GTA) offices in Darjeeling hills began on June 12.

A GJM procession had marched to several government offices in Chowkhazar area yesterday to stop people from reporting for work.

Police pickets and barricades were placed in front of the government and GTA offices and various entry points of the turn violent and pelted stones at the police when they were stopped yesterday.

Their call for a separate State of Gorkhaland gained momentum after six other hill parties extended their support to a separate State.

The GJM supporters had hills while Rapid Action Force (RAF) and a sizeable number of women police personnel were deployed.

The Centre yesterday despatched 600 paramilitary personnel to assist the West Bengal government in restoring normalcy in the violence-hit area.

It has also sought a detailed report on the situation in the hill district from the State government. - PTI

MESSAGE FOR TODAY

City water-logging

The city's inadequate civic infrastructure as also its unresponsive government authorities stood exposed once again during Tuesday evening's deluge that virtually held the citizens water-prisoners. The woes stemming from the complete disruption of the people's routine life apart, the fact that two persons died of electrocution and another by falling into an open drain speaks volumes about the apathy and irresponsibility of the authorities. Indeed, during almost every bout of major water-logging it has become a routine to lose precious human lives due to the shocking inertia of the authorities. It is shameful that the power authorities invariably fail to monitor the situation during flash floods and water-logging and act promptly to prevent human fatalities from electrocution from snapped live high-voltage wires. Fatal incidents involving inverters in water-logged homes, too, have been common. The electricity authorities, besides plugging the loopholes in their functioning during such emergency situations, would also do well to spread awareness on the dos and don'ts for the masses. Fatalities and injuries from falls in open drains and manholes have been another recurring phenomenon.

The problem of rain-induced flash floods and consequent water-logging in Guwahati has worsened over the years, with the rainy season giving sleepless nights to its citizens. Hundreds of crores or rupees have been spent and continue to be spent in the name for ridding the city of this perennial menace but with little practical results. However, this needs to be conceded that at this time at least some of the water-logged areas have witnessed quick receding of floodwater due to some good drainage work done in recent times. But perennially affected areas such as both sides of the RG Baruah Road, especially Nabin Nagar, Anil Nagar, etc., have not seen much improvement in the situation. This reflects poor planning and execution by the government departments and agencies entrusted with the maintenance of civic amenities. In recent years things have aggravated to the extent that several localities in the city have been rendered virtually uninhabitable by prolonged water-logging. Unless the authorities put in place a long-term mechanism involving scientific drainage, the problem stands to aggravate manifold in the next few years. Along with drainage, the factors responsible for water-logging such as the city's unplanned expansion that is wearing down its inadequate civic infrastructure as also the rampant desecration of the natural environment need to be addressed. Land being a prime asset in the city, the shortfall in supply compared to the ever-increasing demand was sought to be met by filling up all low-lying areas including wetlands, rivers and rivulets that used to act as natural storm-water reservoirs and channels. These natural water-bodies and the forested hills were also subjected to widespread encroachment. All this combined with the city's inadequate drainage, mushrooming high-rises on small plots, and rampant violation of road laws had rendered the problem of water-logging an unmanageable one.

Right focus

Had the issue been not so grave, one might have been amused by the 'beef festival' organized by a segment of Mizoram society, during the recent visit of Union Home Minister Rajnath Singh to Mizoram, to protest against the attempt of the NDA Government to stop cow slaughter! However, Singh was there less to address the culinary concerns of the tribal communities in the North-east, and more to take stock of the security situation on the India-Myanmar border. Of India's many borders with foreign countries, this perhaps is the one least in the focus of the Centre as also the national media. Yet this border is vital to the concerns of the North-east and a key to its future destiny. It may be recalled that since primordial times before artificial political boundaries were made, there have been movement of migrants across this 'border' who peopled the hills and valleys of the North-east. The Ahoms, the Shan Tribe who ruled the Brahmaputra Valley for six hundred years, first entered through this border. It is this traditional usage which is responsible for the porosity marking it – Singh was quick to point out that even today a visa-free regime has enabled people to move freely across this border up to 16 km and stay on for 72 hours, in keeping with the traditional social and trade relations among the border communities.

However, this porosity has also been a bane, since it facilitates surreptitious movement of criminal elements like drugs, contraband goods, fake Indian currency notes, and arms smugglers and militants. The need of the hour is, therefore, enhanced and efficient monitoring by the administration of the four Indian States bordering Myanmar – Nagaland, Arunachal, Manipur and Mizoram. Addressing Chief Ministers and Ministers from these States, Singh urged them to undertake active policing of border villages and setting up more security camps. Similarly, while speaking to the personnel of the Assam Rifles entrusted with the task of patrolling this border, Singh acknowledged that securing a porous border was tougher than a sealed one, and recommended 'extreme precautions' to ensure that the prevailing friendly relations with Myanmar are in no way disturbed. It is good that Singh has undertaken an-on-the-spot survey to put the focus on an oft-neglected border and personally boost the morale of the forces responsible for guarding it. The death of NSCN (K) supremo SS Khaplang has made the insurgency situation more fluid, perhaps providing a window of opportunity to India to solve the problems once and for all with the help of Myanmar. That nation being a major player in India's Act East Policy, her help would be required in setting up communication infrastructure, and Singh is on the right track while emphasizing that the warmth of India-Myanmar relations needs to be maintained.

Cotton Science stream cut-off at 86.2 per cent

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, June 14: The admission process to the Higher Secondary Science stream at Cotton University concluded today, with completion of the second phase seats of evening shift from the second cut-off waiting list.

The university authorities said there will be no third cut-off as all the seats in HS Science have been filled up with in the declared second cut-off.

Cotton University Registrar Prof Shikhar Kumar Sarma told The Assam Tribune that the science day shift general seats closed at 540 marks (90 per cent). The evening shift closed at 517 marks, which was 86.2 per cent.

Sarma said there have been rumours and misrepresentation of facts in a section of media about the vacant seats in HS classes.

"This year, the university adopted the cut-off system instead of asking all the applicants to come on the day of admission. In a normal process, for 500 seats in day and evening shifts of HS Science, some 1,500 applicants would have come to the university admission venue from different places. In an attempt to reform this inconvenient process of calling all the applicants, the university adopted a student-guardian friendly process of declaring cut-off marks. This has benefited many students and guardians who would have otherwise rushed to Guwahati for taking a chance of getting admitted," Sarma said.

The first cut-off-based admissions were over on June 12, and on the same evening the second cut-off marks were announced.

For the first time, a simplified process of online applications was followed by Cotton University, where students did not have to pay any application fee. For other courses also the university will follow the same process of online application and declaration of cut-off marks.

The HS Arts online application submission will be closed at 7 pm today and the cut-offs will be declared tomorrow morning. Admissions will be held on June 17.

There are 350 seats in the HS Science (day), 150 in HS Science (evening) and 160 in the Arts stream in the uni-

Activists of the Sdome Asom Goria-Moria Yuba-Chatra Parishad taking out a procession in Guwahati on Wednesday, demanding implementation of the Wafof (Amendment) Act, 2013 and freeing the Wafof Board's land from encroachers. - AT photo

Oxford English-Assamese dictionary launched

Mousumi Handique.

Dr Tamuly and Handique compiled and edited the dictionary.

Bezboruah, in his speech, stressed the fact that the dictionary fulfilled a long-felt gap and would go a long way in empowering young learners. "In all urban societies, there is a growing compulsion to be bi-lingual and possibly even multi-lingual, and for being bilingual, English is the obvious choice. The trend to become multi-lingual should be encouraged. We often tend to ignore the reality that a dictionary is a fundamental tool to learn a language and this dictionary with its thrust on varied aspects that a learner needs to know, will be of immense help to him," he said.

Dr Family said that dictionaries testify to the vitality and heritage of communities, and that the dictionary would help empower young learners.

Dr Borgohain stressed the need for correct guidance while learning a foreign language and felt that the dictionary would precisely serve that purpose.

Mousumi Handique gave a power-point presentation covering various aspects of the dictionary.

Harekrishna Deka said that the dictionary would provide the learners a vital clue for learning the English language.

Pans Basuli, Business Head - Higher Education, Trade & Professional Learning, OUP India, said that with the dictionary, OUP has launched a customized solution for the Assam market. "The development of the pedagogically advanced English-English Assamese Dictionary is a significant milestone for OUP's professional learning programme. It gives us extended reach into the vital Assamese market which has a large young population desirous of improving their proficiency in the English language, for both personal and professional development," he said.

The Oxford Compact English-English Assamese Dictionary is a notable addition to OUP's 23 existing bilingual dictionaries in Indian languages.

Visually impaired students fare well despite lack of facilities

GUWAHATI, June 14: Despite lack of amenities and necessary support mechanism, many differently able students of the State have proved themselves in the HSLC Examination this year.

"It can be clearly seen that after much of negligence and challenges, the dreams came true for most of the disabled students to emerge with successful result in the HSLC Examination, 2017. As is evident from the developments, had they been given their proper rights and entitlements, we would have seen more students with disabilities succeeding in the examinations," Saikia added.

SILCHAR, June 14: Members of the National Students' Union of India and Silchar Lok Sabha level Youth Congress on Tuesday demanded an apology from the national president of the BJP Amit Shah for calling Mahatma Gandhi a 'chatur baniya'.

The furious Congress members burnt effigies of Amit Shah and shouted slogans against the BJP president for belittling the Father of the Nation. The members echoed in unison that Shah should apologise for slinging mud on the Father of the Nation and shaming the freedom struggle. Fresh tender is being framed as per the provision of the Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016," said the official. The capacity of the composting unit used is two tonne per day.

Officials said that adoption of the Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016, has wide implications in the Railways as most of the big colonies and stations will now fall within the purview of the Rules.

"In the Railway areas, the organisation must manage the waste generated within the Railway premises. The problem is that besides presence of a large number of unauthorised occupants within the Railway premises, there is also the issue of disposal of garbage by outsiders within the Railway premises. Then there is the question of charging user fee as mandated by the Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016, from Railway employees, markets, unauthorised markets, unauthorised occupants," sources said.

They added that efforts are being made to reduce generation of waste, involve the society, and promote reuse of plastic bags to ensure overall reduction of plastic.

Officials said that as part of the implementation of the Rules, each waste generator in the Railway premises must segregate waste into three components – dry, wet and domestic hazardous – and all households, hospitals, workshops, sheds, and others have to comply with this.

"The Medical department will ensure door-to-door collection of segregated waste in three separate containers. There will be no garbage disposal contract in future, but integrated work covering all the gamut of the Rule. After house-to-house collection of segregated garbage, the dry refuse will be recycled or sold to authorised waste picker or the authorised recyclers, while the wet refuse would be used for composting, vermiculture, or any other suitable means," officials said.

NFR officials added that various initiatives are also being implemented as part of the Swachh Bharat mission. "Clean Train Station (CTS) scheme has been implemented in Guwahati, New Jalpaiguri and Katihar stations where coaches are cleaned through mechanised means during halts," said NFR Chief Public Relations Officer Pranjal Jyoti Sharma.

He said that On Board Housekeeping Services (OBHS) for maintaining cleanliness of coaches on board has been provided in 50 pairs of trains.

"More trains will be provided with this facility shortly. Coach Mitra, an app-based system of receiving complaints from passengers on cleanliness, watering, amenity, linen, petty repair and electrical problems and for their prompt disposal is in operation in 50 pairs of trains," he said.

Sharma added that mechanised laundry for providing clean linen to passengers has already been commisioned in Kamakhya and New Jalpaiguri coaching Depots.

"Another mechanised laundry at Dibrugarh is expected to be functional shortly," said the NFR CPRO.

Employment of girl child as domestic help high in Dhubri district

CORRESPONDENT

SILHOUETTE, June 14: A study presented during the observance of World Day Against Child Labour, says that the employment of girl child in the form of domestic help is not only very high in the district but is also an issue that remains unattended.

While presenting a study by the Sarva Shiksha Abhyayan Mission (SSA), the District Programme Officer of SSA, Abhijit Chakraborty said that the issue of keeping a child labour for domestic help remains invisible because such labours are kept mainly within the four walls of the families belonging to the upper class, upper-middle class and middle class section of the society. He also said that engaging such labour is mainly seen in the homes of the educated masses and in the residence of individuals who are respected in the society.

The study also reveals that parents of the children themselves keep their children, mainly the child for domestic help. He also revealed that the money that these minor labour earn is mainly taken away by their parents, while the child has to face all the struggles that sometimes includes mental and physical harassment.

"The number of child labour is high because they are cheap to employ, easy to dominate and are non-demanding," said Chakraborty during the observation of the day organised by SSA in association with the district administration, Department of Labour and Welfare and Unicef.

He also revealed that employing a labour for domestic help hampers the child psychologically which haunts her for her entire lifetime. It was also informed that apart from engaging a girl child for domestic help, child labour in the district is high because they are cheap to employ, easy to dominate and are non-demanding," said Chakraborty during the observation of the day organised by SSA in association with the district administration, Department of Labour and Welfare and Unicef.

He also revealed that employing a labour for domestic help hampers the child psychologically which haunts her for her entire lifetime. It was also informed that apart from engaging a girl child for domestic help, child labour in the district is high because they are cheap to employ, easy to dominate and are non-demanding," said Chakraborty during the observation of the day organised by SSA in association with the district administration, Department of Labour and Welfare and Unicef.

The member of Child Welfare Committee (CWC) said that at a time when child labour is such a big issue in the district, there is no unit of Childline here, "If one calls 1098, i.e., the Childline to rescue a child in danger, then they operate from Guwahati or Kokrajhar. They refer the case to officials of other departments of the district and the procedure takes a long time giving an ample time for the child abuser to escape".

The member of CWC also said that the task force to control child labour in the district is also non-functional since years. "Many of the members of the Child welfare task force have either been transferred or are very inactive and a few have also died. Since the last two years there has not been a single activity of this task force," added Islam who also said, "in such a condition, even a child labour is spotted where will the complainant go. How a child who is being abused can expect security and justice". The programme was inaugurated by the Deputy Commissioner, Dibrugarh and attended by the District Development Commissioner Mahmood Hassan along with other dignitaries at the office of the SSA.

SOBHAPATI SAMON

IMPHAL, June 14: Torrential rains have caused havoc in the last two days including flooding at many places along rivers banks in Manipur's hills and valleys on Wednesday.

The situation has worsened after the Imphal river bank was breached at Kairang Tera Makhong and Mayang Imphal in Imphal East and Imphal West districts.

The strong currents of Imphal river also swept away a 35 year-old farmer Paommoni of Khaochhangbung village in

Kangpokpi district while hundreds of localities in Imphal East, Imphal West, Thoubal and Senapati districts faced flash flood after several rivers flash flood including Imphal, Nambul, Kali and Senapati crossed the danner level last night.

Kairang village in Chief Minister N Birsen Singh's Hengingtong constituency suffered the impact of flood when Imphal river breached a 60 feet length in the riverbank on Tuesday night.

Several villagers in Kalaphar in Kangpokpi district vacated their houses after flood water entered their homes while residents of Sogabond, Uriopok, Iaiskul, etc., are facing flash flood.

Though water level of major rivers are decreasing slowly, rain and flash floods destroyed standing crops in many places.

Some villages in Senapati district have been cut off from the rest of the State after rains washed away the roads.

Chief Minister N Birsen

Singh accompanied by Irrigation and Flood Control Minister Letpao Haokip today visited the flood-hit Kairang areas to take stock of the situation.

On Tuesday, Social Welfare and Cooperation Minister Nemcha Kippen visited the earth crack and flood affected areas in Kangpokpi district and distributed relief materials to the affected families.

Gujarat textbook describes Jesus as devil, Acharya shocked

CORRESPONDENT

DIMAPUR, June 14: When Nagaland Governor PB Acharya has expressed shock and dismay over the Class IX Hindi textbook in Gujarat published by Gujarat Board describing Lord Jesus Christ as "Haivaai" (devil), Nagaland Baptist Church Council (NBCC), the apex body of Baptist Christians in the State, has taken serious note of the offending chapter and demanded apology from the Gujarat Government to the Christian community in the country.

In a letter addressed to Governor Om Prakash Kohli, Governor Acharya said such mendacious action by irresponsible employees not only hurt the sentiments but also jeopardised communal harmony and called for stern action against the persons responsible for it.

Acharya also spoke to his Gujarat counterpart about the seriousness of the matter. Kohli assured to take up the matter urgently with Gujarat State Education Minister and to take action against the person concerned. The Gujarat Governor also expressed his regret over the matter.

Class IX Hindi (second language) textbook, published by Gujarat State School Textbook Board (GSSTB), had used an adjective "haivaai" or demon before Jesus Christ as "Haivaai" (devil), Nagaland Baptist Church Council (NBCC), the apex body of Baptist Christians in the State, has taken serious note of the offending chapter and demanded apology from the Gujarat Government to the Christian community in the country.

"Jesus Christ is Lord and Saviour of the Christians and not a demon as was printed in the class IX text book in Gujarat," NBCC said in a release.

It said though the Gujarat authority has tried to pass the error as printing mistake, it has hurt the sentiments of the minority Christians in the country.

"The explanation came short of apology to the community. It is not enough to verbally state that it is an error because for millions of Christians, Jesus is Lord and Saviour.

To call Jesus as a demon (haivaai) is not only a mistake but an insult," the Lodge here.

It urged Gujarat Education Department not only to correct the error but also apologise to the Christian community and educate the students in the country that "we must learn to respect and honour the beliefs of each religion whether they be major or minor."

As assured by Gujarat Education Minister Bijuendrapuram Chhudasama, the NBCC demanded that the error should not only be corrected by due apology be tendered to the Christian community in the country.

"The explanation came short of apology to the community. It is not enough to

CPM sees red in Tripura blockade

CORRESPONDENT

AGARTALA, June 14: The banned outfit National Liberation Front of Tripura (NLFT) has extended full support to the indefinite National Highway and rail blockade in Tripura beginning July 10 next.

The IPFT, a tribal-based party has called an indefinite NH and railway blockade at Khamtinghbari in Khawai district demanding a separate State of Tripuraland.

"We have specific information that the terrorist group had changed their leadership by ousting ailing Biswamohan Debbarma and selected Subir Debbarma to head the outlawed group. And, the new leadership of the outfit has fully backed the NH and railway blockade called by IPFT," said CPI (M) State secretary Bijan Dhar at a press conference here on Wednesday.

"This time too there is a sinister design to oust the Left Government with the help of an outlawed group but the people are determined to foil such conspiracy," claimed an optimist Dhar.

He also alleged that IPFT president NC Debbarma had a meeting with Minister of State in Prime Minister's Office (PMO) Jitendra Singh on May 17 in New Delhi and then called an indefinite NH and railway blockade. "Therefore the IPFT needs to clarify on the IPFT's political stand on Tripuraland," he added.

NC Debbarma, who had declared a new executive committee of IPFT recently, made it clear that the party would go for electoral understanding with only those parties which back Tripuraland demand.

"We are not against electoral tie up to end the Marxist regime in Tripura but there will be no compromise with our main demand - Tripuraland," he said in a recent press conference.

The rally was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the inauguration of India's longest bridge in Assam on May 26. Modi Fest would be celebrated in over 300 districts in the country.

Cabinet okays tabling of Bill on bankruptcy resolution

NEW DELHI, June 14: In a bid to protect clients of financial service providers in financial distress, the Union Cabinet today approved the introduction of a Bill that will lay out a resolution framework for financial sector entities in dealing with bankruptcy.

"The Cabinet, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, approved the proposal to introduce the Financial Resolution and Deposit Insurance Bill, 2017. The Bill will provide for a comprehensive resolution framework for specified financial sector entities to deal with bankruptcy," a Finance Ministry statement said.

"The Bill complements the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, by providing a resolution framework for the financial sector. Once implemented, this Bill, along with the Code, will provide a comprehensive resolution framework for the economy," it said.

The Bill aims to inculcate discipline among financial service providers in the event of financial crisis by limiting the use of public money to bail out distressed entities, the statement added.

"It will help maintain financial stability in the economy by ensuring adequate preventive measures, while at the same time providing the necessary instruments for dealing with crisis. The Bill aims to strengthen and streamline the current framework of deposit insurance for the benefit of a large number of retail depositors," the statement said.

Further, this Bill seeks to decrease the time and costs involved in resolving distressed financial entities.

"The Financial Resolution and Deposit Insurance Bill, 2017, when enacted, will pave the way for setting up of the Resolution Corporation. It will lead to repeal or amendment of resolution-related provisions in sectoral Acts as listed in the Schedules of the Bill. It will also lead to repeal of Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation Act, 1961, to transfer the deposit insurance powers and responsibilities to the Resolution Corporation," it said.

The Resolution Corporation will protect the stability and resilience of the financial system, protecting the consumers of covered obligations up to a reasonable limit and protecting public funds, to the extent possible. – IANS

Banks express concern over telecom sector 'stress'

NEW DELHI, June 14: Four large banks that met an inter-ministerial group (IMG) today expressed concern over "stress" in the telecom sector and flagged the possibility of loan defaults by the operators.

The IMG met officials from four leading banks – State Bank of India, Punjab National Bank, Axis Bank and HDFC Bank – on financial difficulties being faced by the telecom industry, whose debt burden stands at a whopping Rs 4.6-lakh crore.

"They (banks) say that the telecom sector may be in stress and there can be defaults," sources familiar with the development said.

The banks in the two-hour meeting talked about measures that can be taken to enhance liquidity.

Sources further said that SBI's exposure to the telecom sector is to the extent of Rs 80,000 crore.

They added that the IMG may meet the banks once more but the date has not been finalised yet.

The IMG, comprising officials from the ministries of Communications and Finance, is meeting operators and lenders who face financial difficulties being faced by the industry, and measures that can be taken to ease the situation.

Last month, SBI Chairman Arundhati Bhattacharya in a letter to the Telecom Secretary had expressed concern over the stress in the telecom sector reaching "unsustainable levels".

"The stress in the sector has reached highly unsustainable levels after the entry of new players and launch of free services which led to erosion of topline and EBITDA of the telecom service providers," the letter said.

The letter said that the total EBITDA of the sector on an annualised basis is Rs 65,000 crore which is "clearly unsustainable" for debt of more than Rs 4-lakh crore.

The bank also sought immediate and large-scale intervention to "stem the slide".

It has asked for deferred payment liability for spectrum to be aligned to 20 years, rationalisation of GST rates, as also licence fee and spectrum usage charges. – PTI as much as 25 per cent of the bad assets." Finance Minister's Principal Economic Advisor Sanyog Sanyal said.

Each of the defaulters identified by RBI owes over Rs 5,000 crore to banks.

The banking sector is saddled with non-performing assets (NPAs) of over Rs 8-lakh crore, of which Rs 6-lakh crore is with public sector banks (PSBs).

Sanyal told news channel CNBC-TV18 that if a bankruptcy process has been set in motion, it does not mean that "we are just going to take all of the tomorrow morning and sell it off and auction it off".

The IBCL provides for 180 days for completion of insolvency process which can be extended by another 90 days in special cases.

Financial Affairs Secretary

Tapan Ray said most of the regulations of IBC are in place since December and the required infrastructure is ready to handle cases.

"NCLT is prepared, we are further strengthening the NCLT with induction of more judicial and technical members. So they will be able to handle these cases," Ray said.

Commenting on RBL's action, UCO Bank MD and CEO Rakesh Takkar said that there may not be much left for promoters in all the bigger NPA accounts. "In all the bigger accounts there may not be much left for the promoters. My balance sheet won't be affected."

United Bank of India MD Pawan Kumar Bajaj said, "In some cases if you see that the total net worth is eroded, in those cases bigger hair cuts would be there." – PTI

Rate cut call gathers steam as inflation eases

NEW DELHI, June 14: As inflation slumped to a five-month low of 2.17 per cent in May, India Inc stepped up its call for the RBI to ease the interest rate, highlighting the need to fast track bankruptcy proceedings under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC).

Assocham expects the wholesale price index (WPI)-based inflation to fall going ahead, citing risks to the Indian economy in the form of global uncertainty, rising protectionism and a renewed slowdown in the Chinese economy which could hit external demand.

It expects prices to remain benign in coming months.

The industry also urged the government to create an conducive environment for investment, capacity utilisation and augmentation of industrial production on a priority basis.

The WPI inflation is expected to record a sharp decline to sub-2 per cent in June 2017, led by the heat effect and trends in food and commodity prices," said Aditi Nayar, Principal Economist at ICRA.

She termed the recent trend of deflation in certain food items such as vegetables and pulses as worrisome from the point of view of assuring remunerative prices to farmers needed to sustain their interest in growing such crops. – PTI

CCI slaps Rs 87-cr fine on Hyundai Motor

NEW DELHI, June 14: Competition Commission of India (CCI) today imposed a penalty of Rs 87 crore on Hyundai Motor India for unfair business practices with respect to providing discounts for cars.

Besides, the company has been directed to cease and desist from such anti-competitive practices.

In a 44-page order, the regulator said the company's anti-competitive conduct include putting in place arrangements that resulted in resale price maintenance by way of monitoring of maximum permissible discount level. This was done through discount control and penalty mechanisms for non-compliance of the discount scheme, it added.

"Such conduct pertains to and emanates out of sale of motor vehicles. Hence, for the purposes of determining the relevant turnover for this infringement, revenue from sale of motor vehicles alone has to be taken into account," CCI noted.

It was alleged that the company has discount control mechanism whereby dealers are permitted only to provide a maximum permissible discount and not beyond the recommended range.

The watchdog slapped a fine of Rs 87 crore on the car maker. The penalty amount translates to 0.3 per cent of the company's average relevant turnover in the last three financial years from 2013-14. – PTI

Govt working on DGFT-CBEC merger proposal

NEW DELHI, June 14: The government is working on a proposal to merge the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) with the Central Board for Excise and Customs (CBEC) to promote ease of doing business for exports and imports.

The DGFT and CBEC are under the ministries of Commerce and Finance, respectively.

The proposal also assumes significance as a bulk of the current work profile of the foreign trade regulator DGFT is going online with digitisation and rollout of the goods and services tax (GST).

The DGFT, headed by an IAS officer, facilitates exports, formulates foreign trade policy and administers programmes like the Merchandise Exports from India Scheme, Advance Authorisation and Export Promotion for Capital Goods.

According to sources, the matter was discussed recently in an inter-ministerial meeting convened by the Cabinet Secretary.

"There are some synergies between customs and the DGFT. The two can be merged so that policy and implementation is with one body. Outward-looking infrastructure support-related activities will be taken care of by the DGFT post-merger," they said. – PTI

Eggs hurled at Union Tribal Affairs Minister

KENDRAPARA (Odisha), June 14: The BJD activists in Odisha today hurled eggs at Union Tribal Affairs Minister Jual Oram's vehicle and waved black flags at him in Kendrapara.

The incident took place at Aul Market here when the minister was on his way to take part in 'Sabha Saath Sabka Vikas' programme at Rajkanya.

Condemning the incident, Oram later tweeted, "I condemn in the strongest terms the anti-Adivasi mindset of BJD who have thrown eggs on me in Kendrapara."

"The incident seems to be the hallmark of miscreants. Law enforcing agencies had tried their best to ensure peace during the union minister's visit," Kendrapara SP Dyanand Gochhayat said.

The SP said that police had earlier made preventive arrest of over 100 Congressmen near Aul after they waved black flags in protest against Oram's visit.

District unit BJP president Suktan Dwivedi said, "It is an act of desperation on the part of both BJD and Congress. The resurgence of BJP following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's governance at the Centre has deeply affected both the parties. This is the reason they are trying to sabotage BJP's programmes."

"At least three eggs hit the minister's vehicle. Though the police were present, they handled the situation casually. Had they stopped the protesters, the unfortunate incident could have been averted," former president of BJP district unit Gyanadeb Beura said.

On June 10, Congress party workers had allegedly hurled eggs at the vehicle of Union Minister Radha Mohan Singh in Bhubaneswar. - PTI

No rationale in AYUSH advice on pregnant women: Docs

NEW DELHI, June 14: Allopathic doctors today disagreed with the recommendations of a government research body on yoga to pregnant women, which asked them to control lust and shun non-vegetarian food, saying there was no rationale behind it.

The doctors instead maintained that consuming non-vegetarian food and eggs during pregnancy was "highly" recommended as they were rich sources of protein and omega-3 fatty acids which are vital for development of baby.

According to a booklet 'Mother and Child Care' released by the AYUSH Ministry recently, pregnant women should "detach themselves from desire and lust, and avoid eggs and non-vegetarian food if they wish to have a healthy baby."

The booklet was issued by the government-funded Central Council for Research in Yoga and Naturopathy.

It advises them to avoid bad company and have "spiritual" thoughts besides reading the life histories of "great personalities". The booklet recommends hanging "good and beautiful pictures" on bedroom walls, which, it says, will also have a positive impact on the foetus.

"People can have their dietary preferences but there is no reason why one should deliberately avoid non-vegetarian food and eggs. They are good sources of iron and protein."

But if a woman is vegetarian, then they should supplement their meals with enough sprouts, lentils, paneer and milk products, Loveleen Nair, senior consultant at Fortis Hospital, said.

Professor of Gynaecology at AIIMS, Neerja Bhatia said there was also scientific study which says that women during their pregnancy should abstain from sex and/or should control their sexual feelings and behaviour. "It is true that there are some high-risk pregnancies in which the women may be advised not to indulge in intercourse but otherwise in normal cases there is no such restriction." - PTI

Horse-trading issue rocks TN Assembly

CHENNAI, June 14: Waving current notes, opposition DMK MLAs led by MK Stalin today staged noisy protests in the Tamil Nadu Assembly after their demand for a debate on alleged horse-trading involving ruling AIADMK legislators was disallowed and were evicted en masse when they did not relent.

As the issue of alleged pay-offs rocked the Assembly on the opening day of its Budget session, Stalin, who is Leader of Opposition, along with fellow MLAs resorted to a road blockade outside the Secretariat after their eviction and were detained by the police. Police later let the legislators off after a brief detention at a nearby hall.

Stalin demanded the dismissal of the AIADMK government over the issue of the alleged pay-offs.

DMK cadres were also arrested in different parts of the State for staging demonstrations against the eviction of all

Stalin and others.

Trouble for the AIADMK, which is already in the grip of an intense factional feud, broke out after SS Saravanan, a party MLA belonging to the dissident faction led by P Panneerselvam, purportedly made some claims in a TV 'sting' operation about alleged pay-offs to the party.

DMK members evicted

MLAs resorted to high decibel sloganising even as some of them were seen waving wads of currency notes, newspapers, and hand-papers with something written on it.

Panmuel said there was a precedent for not allowing sub-judge matters to be discussed in the House.

He recalled that when the DMK was in power in January 2011, then Speaker R Avudaiyappan had cited the grounds of "sub-judice" and denied permission to an AIADMK member to raise the issue of 'Nira Radha' tapes in which DMK MP Kanimozhi's name had figured.

The Speaker said that Avudaiyappan had also sought "evidence" on the Radha tapes while not allowing a discussion, and asked the DMK also to produce proof on the matter.

Assuring that the matter was sub-judice, the Speaker said he will not allow the discussion at any cost.

"I have repeatedly pleaded with you for your cooperation for the smooth running of the House for nearly 45 minutes. But you seemed to have decided deliberately to disrupt proceedings which I cannot allow," he said before ordering their eviction.

He then read out the names of all DMK MLAs present before summoning the marshals to evict them.

Immediately a security cordon was thrown around the Speaker before the DMK MLAs, including Stalin, were escorted out by the marshals. - PTI

MP CM gives Rs 1-cr aid to deceased farmers' kin

MANDSAUR (MP), June 14: Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan today visited Mandaur, where six persons were killed during a farmers' protest, and handed over Rs 1 crore each as aid to the kin of the deceased.

Chouhan, along with wife Sadma, reached Mandaur on a special plane and first went to Badwan village to meet the kin of Ghansham Dhakad, who was killed in police firing.

The State government had yesterday sanctioned a financial aid of Rs 1 crore each to the families of six farmers killed during a violent protest staged by them at Mandaur. Five of them were allegedly killed in police firing, while another farmer, who was allegedly beaten up by the police, succumbed to his injuries later.

Chouhan assured the family members that strict action will be taken against those guilty of killing the farmers.

He later visited Lodh and consoled the family members of Satyanarayan, another deceased farmer. The Chief Minister then went to Nayakhera in neighbouring Neemuch district to meet the family of Chainram Patidar.

On the demand of Chainram's father Ganpat, he announced a tarred road from Kuchlod to Nayakhera, a community centre in the village and a memorial for the deceased farmer. - PTI

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Assembly poll wins likely to help BJP nominee

NEW DELHI, June 14: The BJP's electoral victory in the recent Assembly polls is set to help its nominee get elected as the next President of India.

The BJP has initiated moves to reach out to the Opposition parties selecting a consensus candidate for the upcoming presidential poll.

LJP to support NDA nominee

NEW DELHI, June 14: Lok Janshakti Party (LJP) chief Ram Vilas Paswan today said his party would support the NDA nominee for the presidential poll to be held on July 17. And on July 24 and the nomination process for the July 17 poll began today.

The electoral college which elects the President through the system of proportional representation comprises elected MPs and members of State legislative assemblies – a total of 4,896 voters including 4,120 MLAs and 776 elected MPs.

While 233 are elected members of the Rajya Sabha, 543 are from the Lok Sabha.

While the Lok Sabha Speaker, an elected member, can vote, two nominated members from the Anglo-Indian community in the Lok Sabha and 12 nominated MPs from the Rajya Sabha cannot.

But the party's victories in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand have ensured that its share in the electoral college, which will elect the next President, goes up significantly.

The term value of the electoral college is 10,98,882.

Before the assembly polls, the NDA was short of 75,076 votes in terms of value. But after the BJP's astounding performance in Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Manipur, the gap will narrow down to 20,000 votes, an official in the Election Commission explained.

If it is able to get the support of parties like AIADMK with 134 MLAs and BJP with 117 MLAs, it can see the person of its choice in the Rashtrapati Bhawan easily.

In the 243-member Rajya Sabha, the BJP as of now has 56 members, while the Congress with 59 is the single largest party.

With wins in Assem-embly polls, the BJP is set to emerge as the single largest party in the Rajya Sabha too next year and the NDA's tally would be close to 100.

It would, however, still be short of a majority in the Upper House. - PTI

People who are phone snubbed – or “phubbed” – by others, themselves turn to smartphones and social media to find acceptance, according to a new study. Researchers from Baylor University found that the circle rarely completes itself as the offended parties frequently jump online to find affirmation in the likes and shares and positive comments of social media.

“Being phubbed was also found to undermine an individual’s psychological well-being. Phubbed individuals reported higher levels of stress and depression,” said David, lead author of the study published in the Journal of Consumer Research.

“We are looking online for what we are not getting offline. It is a vicious cycle,” said James A Roberts, Professor at Baylor University.

As part of their study, researchers surveyed more than 330 people across two studies. They found that nearly half of those who were phubbed reported spending more than 1.5 hours on their phone each day.

In addition, one-quarter of those phubbed reported spending more than 90 minutes per day on social media sites.

More than one-third of phubbed individuals indicated that they turn to social media to interact with new people. Over half of individuals who said they were phubbed indicated that social media enhances their life and makes their life better. The majority reported that people’s comments on their social media posts makes them feel affirmed and more accepted.

“Although the stated purpose of technology like smartphones is to help us connect with others, in this particular instance, it does not,” David said.

“Ironically, the very technology that was designed to bring humans closer together has isolated us from these very same people,” he said.

Roberts said this current research and the trends it identifies are troubling.

“Our inability to separate from technology is devastating to our well-being. Even if it is not an addiction, it is a deeply engrained habit,” he said.

To counter the negative effects of smartphone use, the researchers advise consumers to establish “smartphone-free” zones and times; establish social contracts (and penalties) regarding phone use with family, friends and coworkers; and downloading apps that track, monitor and control smartphone use.

Phubbed people

Snubbed people turn to smartphones for acceptance, says a study itself as the offended parties frequently jump online to find affirmation in the likes and shares and positive comments of social media.

The study investigated the relationship between phubbing, social media attachment, depression, anxiety and stress.

“When an individual is phubbed, he/she feels socially excluded, which leads to an increased need for attention. Instead of turning to face-to-face interaction to restore a sense of inclusion, study participants turned to social media to regain a sense of belonging,” said Meredith David, assistant professor

Know your DAY

By JACQUELINE BIGAR

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Thursday, June 15, 2017.

This year you might be more focused on your image, community presence and/or career. You want to make an impression in every single way. Be sensitive to your audience. If you are single, consider being as authentic as you can be. You are likely to meet someone significant at any given time. If you are attached, the two of you enjoy many happy times together. Your biggest squabble will be over money. Consider saving before checking your accounts. Pisces trusts his or her intuition more than you trust yours.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

* Your mind seems to be focused on everything except what is happening right around you. A subtle jab from a friend might put you to thinking about here and now. Don't let yourself be challenged by some competing commitment. Tonight: Choose a favorite stress-buster.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

 Zero in on what is important to you. A financial matter could be of major importance. Know that some disension is OK, as it forces you to reflect on the other party's questioning of your beliefs. Tonight: Be a little challenging that you had anticipated. Fatigue could be a major player in the forecast. Tonight: Follow the light.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

* Gain a new perspective of what is going on around you. You might sense some type of surprise or an element of the unknown. Your words may have an impact on an associate and how you deal with him/her. Be aware of others' needs. Tonight: Read between the lines.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

* You could be out of sorts when dealing with a new friend. Try to neutralize your energy and gain a better understanding of where this person is coming from. You might be learning a lot along the way, which can pop up at any given moment. Tonight: Go along with someone else's choice.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

* You could feel challenged by others; you might be surprised by what they share and by the words that they choose. A close relationship may become withdrawn and upright. Listen carefully to what this person is saying. Tonight: At a favorite place.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

* You know when to stop and change direction. Others might be acting in the most unexpected way. These instances of unusual behavior seem to happen every time they occur, but they are happening more and more regularly. Tonight: Return calls and emails first.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

* Follow your instincts. You'll be more pleased if you allow your intuition to dominate. You are likely to discover areas of your life where you might want to be a little more logical and a little more spontaneous. Listen to a different perspective. Tonight: Follow the music.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

* When you greet someone with a big smile, more often than not, the same is returned. Though you might be negative about a certain person, you might be a little more upbeat. Doing so could change the scenario around you. Tonight: Homework bound.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

* You hear news that could force you to stop and think. You obviously did not count on this event occurring. Was there a misreading in your thinking? Remember that hindsight is 20/20, but you can prevent this type of problem if you see the indicators. Tonight: Visit with friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

* An unexpected yet exciting long seems to flow through your life. You might be the one who could transform into a hero event. Try to reduce some of your stress by going on a walk or by moving upbeat. Doing so could change the scenario around you. Tonight: Homework bound.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

* You have a lot of ground to cover. A child or new friend could disrupt your schedule, but only because you want to give this person some extra time. A boss might assume that you are not giving a work-related matter enough time. Be careful. Tonight: All smiles. You call it quits.

Thought for the day

Trump has no intention to fire Mueller: US

WASHINGTON, June 14: President Donald Trump has "no intention" of firing special counsel Robert Mueller who is investigating the alleged Russian meddling in last year's US presidential polls, the White House has said.

The White House clarification has come amidst reports that Trump is contemplating firing Mueller.

"While the president has the right to do so," White House Deputy Press Secretary Sarah Huckabee Sanders told reporters abroad Air Force One flying back from Wisconsin to Washington DC.

In a major story, the New York Times claimed that Trump was angered by reports that Mueller was close to fired FBI Director James Comey and entertained the idea of firing the special counsel.

"In recent days, the president has told his staff, his visitors, and his outside advisers that he was increasingly convinced Mueller, like Comey, his successor as director of the FBI, was part of a "witch hunt" by partisans who wanted to see him weakened or forced from office," the daily said.

Trump has made no decision to act against Mueller and insists that he knows the risks of doing so—but people close to the president say Trump is so volatile they cannot be sure that he will not change his mind if he finds out anything to lead him to believe the investigation has been compromised, the New York Times said.

Several lawmakers came out in support of Mueller. Congressman Paul Ryan, Speaker of the House of Representatives, said he has "confidence" in Mueller.

"The best advice would be to let Robert Mueller do his job," he told reporters. — PTI

6 killed as huge fire engulfs residential tower in London

LONDON, June 14: A huge blaze today engulfed a 24-storey residential tower block in west London housing over 100 families, killing at least six persons and injuring 74 others, with police expecting the death toll to rise.

The fire at Grenfell Tower on the Lancaster West Estate in Latimer Road was reported at 01:16 local time. About 600 people are believed to have been inside the tower's 120 flats when the blaze ripped through the building.

"I can confirm six fatalities at this time but this figure is likely to rise during what will be a complex recovery operation over a number of days," said Commander Stuart Cundy, of the Metropolitan Police.

He said it was likely to be some time before police could identify the victims, adding that it was too early to speculate on the cause of the fire.

The fire is thought to have started because of a faulty refrigerator on the 3rd or 4th floor soon after midnight and destroyed flat after flat.

However, the police has said it will take some time before they are in a position to confirm the cause of the fire.

By noon, the building looked to be just smoking ruins but the fire has again taken hold, and cladding is falling to the ground.

Baby dropped from 10th floor!

LONDON, June 14: A quick-thinking man caught a baby thrown from the "ninth or the tenth floor" window of a building by a desperate woman after a huge fire engulfed the 24-storey residential tower block here.

The fire at Grenfell Tower on the Lancaster West Estate in Latimer Road was reported at 01:16 local time. About 600 people were believed to have been inside the tower's 120 flats when the blaze ripped through the building.

"I can confirm six fatalities at this time but this figure is likely to rise during what will be a complex recovery operation over a number of days," said Commander Stuart Cundy, of the Metropolitan Police.

He said it was likely to be some time before police caught a baby from the "ninth or the tenth floor" window of a building by a desperate woman after a huge fire engulfed the 24-storey residential tower block here.

The windows were slightly ajar; a woman was gesturing that she was about to throw her baby and if somebody could catch her baby.

"Somebody did, a gentleman ran forward and managed to grab the baby," she said.

"I could see people from all angles, hanging windows, frantically banging and screaming," she said.

"I could see people from all angles, hanging

expecting the death toll to rise. — PTI

Shooting erupts at US lawmakers baseball practice

ALEXANDRIA (US), June 14: At least five people people including a top Republican congressman were wounded in a Washington suburb early this morning as a shooting erupted as they practised for an annual baseball game between lawmakers.

Senior congressman Steve Scalise was shot in the hip, according to fellow Republican lawmaker Mo Brooks who told CNN at least two law enforcement officers and one congressional staffer were also shot in the incident in Alexandria, Virginia.

"Five people were transported medically from the scene," Alexandria police chief Michael Brown told a press conference.

Police said the shooting suspect was in custody and "not a threat."

President Donald Trump said he was closely monitoring the developments in Virginia, and that Scalise, the majority whip who rallies Republican votes in the House of Representatives, was expected to recover.

"Rep Steve Scalise of Louisiana, a true friend and patriot, was badly injured but will fully recover. Our thoughts and prayers are with him," Trump tweeted.

In a statement earlier, Trump described himself as "deeply saddened by this tragedy," saying his "thoughts and prayers are with the members of Congress, their staffs, Capitol Police, first responders and all others affected."

About 25 senators and congressmen were at the practice, according to Senator Jeff Flake who told reporters some 50 shots rang out in the exchange of fire between the gunman and the lawmakers' security detail, at around 6:30 am (1030 GMT). — AFP

Sessions calls allegations of collusion with Russia appalling

WASHINGTON, June 14: Attorney General Jeff Sessions, a close aide of President Donald Trump, has vehemently denied any role in Russia's alleged meddling in the US 2016 election and dismissed accusations that he discussed such an effort with Russian officials as an "appalling and deplorable lie."

Sessions appeared before the Senate intelligence committee as part of its investigation into possible ties between Trump campaign officials and Russia. He angered Democrats on the panel by refusing to answer questions about conversations with President Donald Trump.

"Let me state this clearly, colleagues. I have never met with or had any conversation with any Russians or any foreign officials concerning any type of interference with any campaign or election in the United States," Sessions told members of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence

"Further, I have no knowledge of any such conversations by anyone connected to the Trump campaign," he said.

"I was your colleague in this body for 20 years, at least some of you, and the suggestion that I participated in any collusion—that I was aware of any collusion with the Russian government to hurt this country, which I have served with honour for 35 years, or to undermine the integrity of our democratic process, is an appalling and deplorable lie," Sessions said.

Sessions' testimony came days after fired FBI Director James Comey testified that he believed he was fired as part of an effort to influence the agencies' investigation into Russia's meddling in the presidential election.

Sessions, the former Senator from Alabama, said Russian interference with America's democratic processes can never be tolerated. — PTI

Confident India face tricky Bangladesh test in CT semifinal

TEAMS:

India: Virat Kohli (C), Shikhar Dhawan, Rohit Sharma, Yuvraj Singh, Bhuvneshwar Singh, Dhoni, Kedar, Jaydev, Hardik Pandya, Ravindra Jadeja, Bhuvneshwar Kumar, Jasprit Bumrah, Umesh Yadav, Ajinkya Rahane, Ravichandran Ashwin, Dinesh Karthik, Mohammed Shami.

Bangladesh: Mashrafe Mortaza (C), Tamim Iqbal, Imrul Kayes, Sajidul Islam, Sabbir Rahman, Mahmudullah Rajad, Shakib Al Hasan, Mustafizur Rahman, Rubel Hossain, Mustafizur Rahman, Taskin Ahmed, Mehedi Hasan Miraz, Mosaddeq Hossain, Surzana Islam, Shafiqul Islam.

MATCH STARTS AT 3:30 PM

that paved the way for their semifinal berth. India, after a clinical performance against South Africa, would like to maintain the same intensity against a team that could prove to be a proverbial banana peel for them.

Batsmen in form, bowlers on target and fielding top notch – Virat Kohli's men have covered all bases so far and Mashrafe Mortaza's men – after their lucky entry into semifinals – will have to pull off something really special at the Edgbaston Cricket Ground to-morrow.

For India, nothing short of a place in the summit round will satisfy them while Bangladesh are standing at the cusp of what could be the biggest day in their cricketing history if they manage to pull off a victory.

A victory for India will be par for the course for which they won't possibly get the credit that one gets for beating Australia, South Africa or England.

A defeat will lead to unparalleled criticism from fans and critics alike with some of the uncomfortable being the scene happenings (like the alleged Anil Kumble-Virat Kohli rift) again raising their heads.

It will be interesting to see if India repeat the performance of the 2007 World Cup opener in Port of Spain – still a 'Red Letter Day' in cricketing history.

In case of Bangladesh, their aim will be to repeat the performance of the 2007 World Cup opener in Port of Spain – still a 'Red Letter Day' in cricketing history.

Four members of that side – skipper Mashrafe Mortaza, Shakib Al Hasan, Mustafizur Rahman and Tamim Iqbal – are stars of this current line-up.

One day cricket is one format where perhaps Bangladesh have the best chance of beating India. This is a format which is neither too long like Test cricket where temperature is challenged nor too short like T20 where quick-on-the-feet innovation is required. Fifty minutes is adequate time in which the entire nation have gained interest in the past 3 years building a reasonably good unit that can put up a fight. – PTI

Pressure is on India not Bangladesh: Ashraful, Bashar

KOLKATA, June 14: India may be outright favourites to repeat the performance of the 2007 World Cup opener in Port of Spain – still a 'Red Letter Day' in cricketing history.

The 44-year-old said their bowlers will hold the key but according to him the biggest "threat" will be Indian opener Rohit Sharma whose 137 in their 2015 World Cup quarterfinal win is "still fresh" in his mind.

"We not only need early breakthroughs but will have to ensure that we keep striking. I'm a big fan of Rohit Sharma and his wicket will be the key," he said referring to Sharma's century after being given out on 90 as Rupee's delivery was called a no-ball in a dubious decision.

Now-exiled Ashraful also said pressure would be on India and added only one-two percent separates both the teams. – PTI

Pressure can crack the most experienced and coolest of players

India will do well not to take Bangladesh lightly when they take on their Eastern neighbour in the semifinals at Birmingham. Agreed they did very well in the warm-up game where they bundled out Bangladesh for a paltry score after putting up more than 300 runs themselves but that team did not have Tamim Iqbal playing in it. He has been incredibly consistent and despite falling for duck in his previous innings against New Zealand, the century and near century he scored in the earlier games against England and Australia tells you of the form he is in. Then the manner in which Shakib and Moshadullah fought back despite the early loss of wickets is another factor that tells you that this is a different Bangladeshi team that doesn't give up easily. Their bowling is too good and Mustafizur is never easy to score off. This Bangladeshi team knows how to win overseas and they have now shown that they can win overseas wins over strong teams especially in England.

India will be quietly confident after the near perfect match that they played against South Africa but they won't be complacent after that loss to Sri Lanka. Bringing Ashwin back in the team was a good move. In any case whatever the opposition or the pitch or the weather conditions, it's hard to

players. – PMG

Ronaldo denies accusations of tax fraud in Spain

MADRID, June 14: Cristiano Ronaldo has denied ever hiding any income from the taxman or committing any tax fraud in Spain, after prosecutors filed a lawsuit accusing him of defrauding tax authorities of £13million.

The prosecutor's office said the Real Madrid forward had knowingly used a business structure created in 2010 to allegedly hide his image rights in come in Spain between 2011 and 2014.

This involved a "voluntary" failure to comply with his tax obligations in Spain, the statement from the office's economic crimes section said. The four counts of tax fraud were based on a report from Spain's tax agency, it said in a statement.

Ronaldo denied the accusations through his representatives late on Tuesday.

"There is no tax evasion scheme... There has never been any hiding nor any intention to hide anything," Gestifute, the agency representing the player, said in a statement.

Gestifute said it would publish documents to show the Portuguese player had not created such a structure and had instead used firms he had owned since his time at Manchester United that both British and Spanish tax authorities had been aware of.

The agency also said the case could relate to different interpretations between the British and Spanish tax systems over where to declare some revenues but would in any case not constitute fraud.

Ronaldo, who led Real Madrid to their 12th European Cup earlier this month, is the latest in a long line of soccer players in Spain – among them Barcelona's Lionel Messi and Neymar – to be caught up in cases over tax or transfers.

Between 2005 and 2010, foreign players in Spain were protected under the so-called 'Beckham law' allowing them to curb their taxes. But as the financial crisis bit deeper, that exemption was lifted, paving the way for the cases.

The prosecutor's office alleges that Ronaldo had defrauded the tax authorities of £1.23m in 2011, £1.49m in 2012, £2.81m in 2013 and £7.47m in 2014.

The prosecutor said that after Ronaldo signed a contract to join Real Madrid in December 2008 he ceded his image rights to a company called Tollin Associates Ltd, domiciled in the British Virgin Islands and in which he was the only stakeholder.

Tollin Associates then ceded his image rights to a company in Ireland called Multisports&Image Management Ltd which was responsible for managing them. Tollin Associates itself had no business activity, the statement said.

"Ceding image rights to Tollin Associates was completely unnecessary and its only purpose was to create a screen to conceal the totality of his image rights income from the Spanish tax authorities," the statement said. – Agencies

England stunned by spirited France

PARIS, June 14: Ousmane Dembele capped a thrilling performance with the goal as England beat France 3-2 in a friendly on Paris on Tuesday in which the video assistant referee played a central role.

Captain Harry Kane had earlier scored twice for the visitors at the Stade de France, including a penalty early in the second half.

The penalty came after the Italian referee gave a spot-kick for a foul on Dele Alli and the video assistant, being trialled here, ruled that Raphael Varane deserved a straight red card.

The decision was a controversial one, coming after FIFA tweaked the rules last year to reduce cases of players being sent off for denying clear goal-scoring opportunities, unless the offence is deliberate.

Varane's teammates and the French fans did not agree with the call, which came after Samuel Umtiti and Djibril Sidibe had scored to cancel out Kane's early opener.

But France's recovery when a man down was a source of disappointment for England manager Gareth Southgate. "We should have got a result. In the space of 90 minutes we saw the things that we are very good at, we looked a threat and created a lot of openings and equally saw what we have to do better," he said.

Meanwhile, France coach Didier Deschamps was delighted to see his side get back to winning ways after a World Cup qualifying defeat in Sweden.

"It is always good to finish with a victory, especially after a defeat. We were down to 10, so hats off to the players, because that is a great England team," he told TFI.

It was a fine end-of-season match, played out in front of French President Emmanuel Macron and British Prime Minister Theresa May and preceded by an emotional tribute to victims of the recent terror attacks in England.

The French fans of almost 80,000 joined in with the English anthem 'God Save the Queen' and a minute's silence was observed to honour the victims of attacks in Manchester and London over the last month. – Agencies

Qatar risk FIFA action after T-shirt protest

DOHA, June 14: Qatar's national team could face disciplinary action from FIFA after players warmed up for a World Cup qualifier against South Korea in T-shirts showing support for the country's emir.

The players prepared for the crucial game in Doha yesterday with a graphic portrait of Emir Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani.

The image has become a widely-used symbol of defiance by Qataris in response to the current diplomatic crisis in the Gulf which has seen Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates and Bahrain and others cut all ties with Doha.

The T-shirt was also waved by attacking midfielder Hasan Al-Haydos after he put the Qataris 1-0 ahead from a free-kick in the 25th minute.

After scoring Haydos sprinted to the touchline and held up a T-shirt to the crowd.

The show of support from the national football team comes during the worst diplomatic crisis witnessed in the Gulf for years.

Saudi and its allies claim they have moved in response to Qatar's support for "terrorism", a charge strongly denied by Doha, which says the diplomatic isolation is "unjust".

Qatar will host the 2022 World Cup finals.

FIFA has any unsanctioned political, religious or commercial messages on shirts.

Earlier this week in response to the Gulf crisis, FIFA president Gianni Infantino said football's governing body "not interfere in geopolitics" and gave his support for the 2022 tournament going ahead in Qatar.

Afterwards, Qatar's Uruguayan coach Jorge Possani defended his players, saying they condemned the "ridiculous situation" of the "blockade" on emirates.

"I don't see something that can receive a punishment as it is a T-shirt with a picture of the emir," he said.

"It doesn't say anything against anybody." – AFP

Pakistan upset England to enter maiden Champions Trophy final CARDIFF, June 14: An unpredictable Pakistan today stunned England by eight wickets to enter their maiden Champions Trophy final, continuing their sensational run in the tournament.

Pakistani bowlers produced another professional performance to restrict the formidable England batting line-up to 211 after Sarfraz Ahmed opted to bowl on a used surface.

The star with the ball was once again pacer Hasan Ali, who ended up with a three-wicket haul for the third time in as many games.

It seemed Pakistani batsmen were batting on a different pitch during the chase as they cruised to complete the target in 37.1 overs, after openers Azhar Ali (76 off 100) and Fakhar Zaman (57 off 58) provided a perfect start.

The duo shared an 118-runs stand of 127 balls ensuring Pakistan gets home comfortably.

The remarkable result also made a mockery of pre-tournament talk and predictions as the eighth-ranked Pakistan punched title favourites England to reach the final at The Oval on Sunday.

Pakistan surprised many by bouncing back brilliantly from their heavy loss against India in the tournament opener to beat South Africa and Sri Lanka en route to the last four.

They have always been an unpredictable side but England, the only undefeated in the league stage, were expected to get past the sub-continent squad with little difficulty.

The same England batsmen, who batted with flair and finesse through the tournament, came a cropper in a high stake semifinal. They found it hard to keep the scoreboard ticking and losing wickets at regular intervals made life tougher for them. Not a single six was hit in their innings.

Pakistan, on the contrary, came out for the chase with a plan. - PTI

BOOK NOOK

Jabari Jumps
By Gail Carriger

E very once in a while, a story comes along and fills a hole in the heart. This is one such story about the word, like how few children's books feature main characters of colour, or perhaps we only remember like tales with a competent, emotionally attuned male caregiver. Through a carefully crafted plot and wonderfully expressive illustrations, Gail Carriger has created a book that is a spot in the story-time queue it won't soon relinquish.

In her debut picture book, author-illustrator Gail Carriger gives us a story that is both delightful and instructive, sure to resonate with any young reader getting nervous about tackling a new skill. "I'm jumping off the diving board today," the goggle-wearing boy tells his dad. "I'm not scared at all."

The good Samaritans

I was an autumn evening, and I along with my parents, sister, Grandma, Uncle, Aunt and cousin, was merrily returning from Ajmer, after spending a week there. We had reached Ajmer after about two hours driving from Agartala; our driver declared that the car break was already due. All the passengers were already asleep. There were no repair shops either. The car had stopped and we had to drive very slowly until we reached the next town. Alas, there was no town by the side of the highway.

Then we came across a petrol pump and a tea stall nearby. A worker was standing and a mechanic was available. They replied that the car had stopped because the clutch had left behind long back. We were in a complete fix, not knowing what to do. Then the owner of the tea stall came to the hotel after hearing our story, resolved to help us. He called on his son and asked him to go to Ajmer town to fetch a mechanic. It was a surprise that they also watched the movie.

Meanwhile, the owner asked us to get comfortable and offered us tea along with some coffee and snacks. They were delighted to hear that we were from Assam. He told us that he had been here for 15 years and had spent a considerable amount of time in Assam. For the next two hours, he took great care of our car, cleaned it, washed it, digging and watching TV with his grandchildren.

We were immensely grateful to them.

The owner asked us to go to the tea stall again, where a bunch of people proved the saying 'Atithi Devo Bhava'. We finally reached Ajmer by 1 a.m., where our hotel staff had already prepared a room for us. When I look back, I realize that if there wasn't a bridle failure, we wouldn't have had such a memorable experience. We were surrounded by diversity, and the goodness of people!

Everyday hero

Dear Bhaitya, Bhonti,

The most important thing in the world is family and love. A father gives the greatest gift anyone can give to another human – he believes in his child. For almost all men, fatherhood is a sense of achievement and fulfilment. For that, they are ever willing to make sacrifices and compromises. To every child, his/her dad is a hero and nothing he does can be wrong. But he is the modest, unassuming hero who goes to work and comes back to play with you or tuck you into bed.

Treasure your bond with this everyday hero on Father's Day. Make him feel loved and cherished.

With love, as always,

Vakeeldear

IDIOM OF THE WEEK

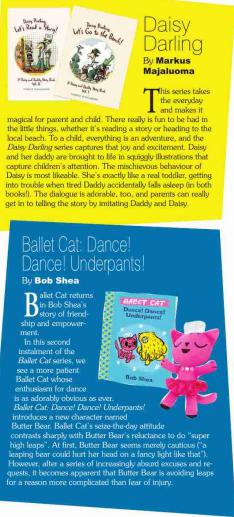

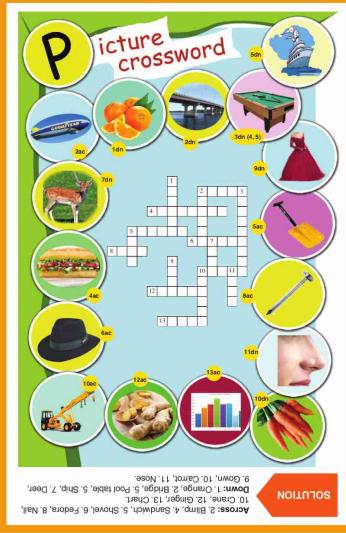

Double Dutch

Dutch comfort – a language cannot understand the English used to hold the ball in a very low regard, on account of the hostility between these two countries in the 17th century. As a consequence of the previous antagonism, there are numerous English phrases which portray the same negative attitude.

Dutch comfort = cold comfort; Dutch concert = pandemonium; Dutch courage = courage; the street smart-wise; Going Dutch = splitting the bill.

The earliest example of 'Dutch Dutch' is in John Davis' 'Book of Four Hundred Proverbs' in the United States America, 1800, which is often given as evidence to Robert Louis 'Mr Adams'. What does language say? Is it double Dutch coded against us?

Dutch duckie is also the name of a children's skipping game, in which two ropes are used. This is referred to in Alice Gorman's 'The Traditional Games of England, Scotland, and Ireland, 1891', as 'the Dutch Duckie' and 'the Dutchy Duckie' at the amateur level, most commonly in the USA, where skipping has the more descriptive name of 'jumping rope'.

Ballet Cat: Dance!
Dance! Underpants!

By Bob Shea

Ballet Cat's story in Bob Shea's story of friendship and empowerment. In this second book in the Ballet Cat series, we see a more patient Bob Cat, who is not so unfriendly for dance as is abundantly obvious at first. Bob Cat's friend, Butter Bear, introduces a new character named Butter Bear. Ballet Cat's size-the-day attitude comes across as a bit over the top when it tries to do "super high leaps". At first, Butter Bear seems merely cautious ("a leaping bear could hurt her head on a fancy light like that"). However, as the story progresses, with more challenges and requests, it becomes apparent that Butter Bear is avoiding bears for a reason more complicated than fear of injury.
